AUTHORITIES

1.1. Appointing Authority Delegation. The Secretary of the Air Force (SecAF), as head of the Department of the Air Force provided by law the authority to take final action on matters pertaining to the employment, direction, and general administration of personnel within the agency. (T-0) The Administrative Assistant to the Secretary of the Air Force (SAF/AA) has appointing authority for all non-executive positions on the Secretariat, Headquarters Air Force or Headquarters Space Force staffs. Tier 1 and Tier 2 Senior Executive Service (SES) and Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service (DISES) has been delegated to the Under Secretary of the Air Force under HAFMD 1-2, Under Secretary of the Air Force. All other appointing authority for SES and DISES is retained by the SecAF. (T-0) SecAF delegates appointing authority for processing of official personnel actions to AFPC/CC, AFMC/CC, and the Director of ETMO for serviced organizations to effect and correct personnel actions or records. This authority may be further delegated to Human Resource Specialists (occupation 0201s/0203s).

1.2. Delegation Authority. Some instructions in the 36-series, personnel publications, assign authority and responsibility for the subject area they cover to specified positions, organizations, or organizational levels. Usually, this is done for those actions based on the use of appointing authority. If there is no specific restriction, appointing authority and responsibility follow the established chain of command. If there is a conflict in appointing authority, this DAFI takes precedence. Installation commanders may delegate their appointing authority to any appropriate subordinate level.

1.3. Appointing Officials. Appointing officials cannot change legal requirements or policies issued by the Federal civilian personnel agencies (Office of Personnel Management (OPM), Merit Systems Protection Board, Federal Labor Relations Authority, or the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission), the Department of Defense (DoD), or the DAF. (T-0)

1.4. Chain of Command. The chain of command concept is essential in the assignment of mission responsibilities from the SecAF to the USAF and USSF, and, successively, to commanders of Major Commands (MAJCOMs)/Field Commands (FLDCOMs) or Direct Reporting Unit (DRU)/Field Operating Agency (FOA), subordinate commanders, down to first-level supervisors. Each level in the chain of command has personnel management responsibilities, from overall direction and guidance at the top management level to immediate supervision at the operating level, and direct supervision at the lowest level. Chain of Command is not to be confused with appointing authority. Appointing Authority is an unbroken line from the SecAF to Installation Commanders and it does not follow the chain of command.

1.5. Intra-Agency Civilian Personnel Service Agreements. Host tenant support agreements provide civilian personnel servicing for DAF employees. The appointing authority must follow the owning agency delegation of authority requirements. (T-0) Commanders covered by Intra-Agency Civilian Personnel Service Agreements have appointing authority under such agreements. Note: These commanders may not affect a personnel action, unless directing that a specific civilian personnel action be taken, corrected, or canceled to comply with a law, policy, directive, or procedure. Commanders or designees granted appointing authority under this paragraph must be on extended military service or on a full-time Federal civilian appointment. (T-1)
1.6. Inter-Agency Civilian Personnel Service Agreements. Host tenant support agreements provide civilian personnel servicing for non-DAF employees. An official of the serviced department, who has formal authority may enter into an Inter-Agency Civilian Personnel Service Agreement. The official has specific delegated appointing authority from their own agency for the group of employees involved. Formal authority must be issued in writing to the Civilian Personnel Officer providing the service to act for that position in the administration of the civilian personnel program. (T-1) These officials are not authorized to delegate appointing authority to effect civilian personnel actions to anyone outside their own agency or department. (T-0) The Civilian Personnel Officer providing the service to another agency is to be designated, not delegated, this authority. This written designation is to provide for the administration and authentication of civilian personnel actions but does not provide the Civilian Personnel Officer appointing authority for employees in a different agency.

2.22. Supervisor Authority and Responsibilities. As a minimum, management must give supervisors authority and responsibility to hire, direct, assign, promote, reward, transfer, furlough, layoff, recall, suspend, discipline, or remove employees. (T-0) This is necessary to adjust their grievances, or to effectively recommend such action, if the exercise of the authority is not merely routine or clerical in nature but requires the consistent exercise of independent judgment (5 USC Part 71, paragraph 7103(a)(10) – Definition of Supervisor).

2.22.1.1. Plan work to be accomplished by subordinates, set and adjust short-term priorities, and prepare schedules for completion of work. (T-1)

2.22.1.2. Assign work to subordinates based on priorities, selective consideration of difficulty and requirements of assignments, and capabilities of employees. (T-1)

2.22.1.3. Evaluate work performance of subordinates. (T-1)

2.22.1.4. Give advice, counsel, or instruction to employees on both work and administrative matters. (T-2)

2.22.1.5. Interview candidates for positions in the unit; recommend appointment, promotion, or reassignment to such positions. (T-1)

2.22.1.6. Hear and resolve complaints from employees, referring group grievances and more serious unresolved complaints to a higher level supervisor or manager. (T-1)
2.22.1.7. Effect minor disciplinary measures, such as warnings and reprimands, recommending other action in more serious cases. (T-1)

2.22.1.8. Identify developmental and training needs of employees, providing or arranging for needed development and training. (T-2)

2.22.1.9. Find ways to improve production or increase quality of work directed and develop performance standards.

2.22.2. First level supervisors must perform supervisory duties in accordance with merit system principles without unlawful discrimination because of race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy, sexual orientation or gender identity status), national origin, age (40 or older), disability, genetic information, prior Equal Employment Opportunity activity, or any other non-merit factors prohibited by statute, regulation, or Executive Order, and refrain from taking any action identified as a prohibited personnel practice. (T-0)

2.22.3. Each first-level supervisor will maintain records and files as prescribed in this Instruction. Higher-level supervisors will not maintain duplicate sets of records, unless approved locally by the head of the organization (i.e., Civil Engineering Commander, Supply Commander, 3-letter Director). (T-1) Each supervisor will ensure records are protected to ensure employee privacy. These responsibilities may not be delegated to administrative personnel. (T-1)

2.23. Employee Work Folder and Employee Performance File. Employees may review their own Supervisor’s Employee Work Folder and the Employee Performance File upon request. Employees may also access MyBiz+ at https://compo.dcpds.cpms.osd.mil/ to view their appointment, position, personal information, salary, benefits, awards and bonuses, performance, and personnel actions. Also available electronically is an employee’s personal information, (for example, self-reported disability, language, ethnicity and race, emergency contact, education, training, and certifications/licenses). Employees may also access records within their eOPF via the OPM eOPF website https://eopf.opm.gov/usaf/.
Chapter 3

MERIT SYSTEM PRINCIPLES AND PROHIBITED PERSONNEL PRACTICES

3.1. Merit System Principles. All staff officials, managers, and supervisors with civilian personnel program responsibilities must preserve merit system principles (see 5 USC § 2301). (T-0) In doing so, they must:

3.1.2. Treat employees and applicants fairly and equitably without regard to political affiliation, race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy, gender identity and sexual orientation), national origin, age (40 or older), disability, genetic information, and with proper regard for their privacy and constitutional rights. (T-0)

3.2. Prohibited Personnel Practices (see 5 USC § 2302). All persons with authority to take, direct others to take, recommend, or approve any personnel action shall not (T-0):

3.2.1. Illegally discriminate for or against any employee/applicant on the basis of race, color, religion, age, sex, disability, national origin, marital status, pregnancy, sexual orientation, or political affiliation. (T-0)

3.2.2. Solicit or consider any recommendation or statement, oral or written, with respect to any individual who requests or is under consideration for any personnel action unless such recommendation or statement is based on the personal knowledge or records of the person furnishing it and consists of: (A) an evaluation of the work performance, ability, aptitude, or general qualifications of such individual; or (B) an evaluation of the character, loyalty, or suitability of such individual. (T-0)
3.2.3. Coerce the political activity of any person (including the providing of any political contribution or service) or take any action against any employee or applicant for employment as a reprisal for the refusal of any person to engage in such political activity. (T-0)

3.2.9. Retaliate against employees or applicants for filing an appeal, complaint, grievance; or testifying for or otherwise lawfully assisting any individual in the exercise of any such appeal, complaint, or grievance; or cooperating with or disclosing information to the Inspector General (or any other component responsible for internal investigation or review) of an agency, or the Special Counsel, in accordance with applicable provisions of law; or refusing to obey an order that would require the individual to violate a law, rule, or regulation. (T-0)

3.2.10. Discriminate for or against any employee or applicant for employment on the basis of lawful conduct which does not adversely affect the performance of the employee or applicant or the performance of others. (T-0)

3.2.13. Implement or enforce any nondisclosure policy, form, or agreement which does not contain the following statement: “These provisions are consistent with and do not supersede, conflict with, or otherwise alter the employee obligations, rights, or liabilities created by existing statute or Executive order relating to (1) classified information, (2) communications to Congress, (3) the reporting to an Inspector General of a violation of any law, rule, or regulation, or mismanagement, a gross waste of funds, an abuse of authority, or a substantial and specific danger to public health or safety, or (4) any other whistleblower protection. The definitions, requirements, obligations, rights, sanctions, and liabilities created by controlling Executive orders and statutory provisions are incorporated into this agreement and are controlling.” (T-0)

3.2.14. Access the medical record of another employee or an applicant for employment as a part of, or otherwise in furtherance of, any conduct described above in paragraphs 3.2.1-3.2.13. (T-0)

Do not implement or enforce any non-disclosure policy, form, or agreement, if such policy, form, or agreement does not contain the following statement: “These provisions are consistent with and do not supersede, conflict with, or otherwise alter the employee obligations, rights, or liabilities created by existing statute or Executive order relating to (1) classified information; (2) communications to Congress; (3) reporting to an Inspector General of a violation of any law, rule, or regulation, or mismanagement, a gross waste of funds, an abuse of authority, or a substantial and specific danger to public health or safety; or (4) any other whistleblower protection. Definitions, requirements, obligations, rights, sanctions, and liabilities created by controlling Executive orders and statutory provisions are incorporated into this agreement and are controlling.”

CIVILIAN PERSONNEL SERVICING AGREEMENTS

4.1. Servicing Arrangements. Intra-Service and Inter-Agency agreements are two basic types of personnel servicing agreements that are documented in a host-tenant support agreement. Only the Inter-Agency agreement and exceptions to the Intra-Service personnel servicing arrangements require a written personnel-servicing agreement, both of which are to be coordinated by the applicable MAJCOM/CCMD/FLDCOM/A/J/S1(s) and AF/A1C prior to implementation. Space Force agreements will be submitted to USSF/S1C prior to submission to AF/A1C.

4.1.1. Intra-Service Civilian Personnel Servicing Agreements. These are host-tenant support agreements that pertain to providing civilian personnel services for DAF employees. DAFCPSs must service all DAF civilian employees to ensure they are all included in the AF/USSF Civilian Personnel Program. (T-1) All DAF activities co-located on an AF or USSF installation with a CPS, or within the same locality, are to be serviced by that CPS. When an activity is not co-located or located near a CPS, services are to be provided by the nearest CPS. Civilian personnel servicing arrangements that follow this policy do not require documentation in an Intra-Service Civilian Personnel Servicing Agreement. Exception to this is the servicing of Alternative Personnel Systems, such as Administratively Determined Faculty, that require specialized expertise should be consolidated where practical. (T-1) MAJCOM/CCMD/FLDCOMs are to submit requests for exception to this policy to AF/A1C for approval. FLDCOM agreements will be submitted to USSF/S1C before submission to AF/A1C, for approval due to impact of civilian personnel servicing arrangements on Reduction in Force retention and bargaining unit representation. (T-1) This includes arrangements to centralize or decentralize civilian personnel servicing.

4.1.2. Inter-Agency Civilian Personnel Servicing Agreements. These are host-tenant support agreements that pertain to providing civilian personnel servicing for non-DAF employees. DAF officials are to be receptive of other DoD components and agencies requesting civilian personnel servicing by a DAF CPS. This includes civilian personnel servicing under the Joint Basing Concept of Operations that came into existence with the issuance of the 2005 Defense Base Closure and Realignment Commission Report to the President. The USAF, when serving as a CCMD Support Agent, will provide civilian personnel administrative support to the CCMDs on a non-reimbursable basis as clarified in DoDI 4000.19 and in AFPD 36-1. (T-0) Inter-Agency Support Agreements identify the activity to be serviced, its location, and approximate number of employees. Any special responsibilities of the serviced and servicing activities are to be clearly defined. The servicing MAJCOM/CCMD/FLDCOM/A/J/S1 is to coordinate these agreements with AF/A1C or USSF/S1C before final approval. (T-1) Staffing authorized and reimbursement agreements are to be locally negotiated.

4.1.3. Joint Basing Civilian Personnel Servicing Agreements. Any servicing agreements required for joint basing should be accomplished via the Inter-Agency Civilian Personnel Servicing Agreements as the need arises with the respective Joint Base lead installation. (T-1)

4.1.4. AFI 25-201 and DoDI 4000.19, details the procedures for implementing and managing support agreements in the DoD when it concerns life-cycle management of human capital for the appropriated fund civilian workforce. A support agreement outlining civilian personnel servicing is documented as a host-tenant support agreement on a DD Form 1144, Support Agreement (used when reimbursables are included), a Memorandum of Agreement, or a Memorandum of Understanding, depending on the situation. CPSs needing to establish a servicing agreement are to work with their Financial Management organization to ensure that reimbursements are appropriately identified in the agreement, as necessary. CPSs are responsible for ensuring the support agreement is written in the suitable format, it appropriately defines the scope of civilian personnel servicing, and is signed by the proper signatory authorities, keeping in mind both MAJCOM/A1 and AF/A1C coordination and approval requirements. (T-1)

4.1.5. Both servicing and serviced activities must review standard Civilian Personnel Servicing Agreements every three (3) years. (T-2) Each party to a reimbursable agreement will review the agreement on an annual basis for financial impacts. (T-2)

4.2. Designation to Act for Appointing Authority. An official of the serviced agency, who has specific delegated appointing authority from his/her/their own department for the group of employees involved, must issue formal authority to the Installation Civilian Personnel Officer or ETMO Director providing servicing to act for that individual in the administration of the civilian personnel program. (T-1) The serviced agency cannot delegate basic authority to effect civilian personnel actions to anyone outside of its agency or department. The Civilian Personnel Officer or ETMO Director providing the service for another agency is to be designated, not delegated, this authority. (T-1) This designation is to be in writing and is to provide for administration and authentication of civilian personnel actions. (T-1)

4.3. Criteria for Civilian Personnel Servicing Agreements. Civilian personnel servicing normally includes administration of recruitment, staffing, affirmative employment, classification, reduction-in-force and for all DoD agencies, administration of the DoD Priority Placement Program, compensation, workforce shaping, and employee and labor management relations. In addition to the servicing criteria addressed by an agreement, it is to provide for the following:

4.3.1. Designation of a Diversity and Inclusion Director for the serviced activity. DAF will ensure civilian personnel servicing agreements are administered without unlawful discrimination because of race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy, sexual orientation and gender identity), national origin, age (40 or older), disability, genetic information, or prior Equal Employment Opportunity activity. (T-0)

4.3.2. Indication of whether grievance and appeals procedures of the servicing or serviced activity will be followed. In the interest of equal treatment for all employees serviced, procedures of the servicing activity will be followed, except when factors such as number or geographic location of the employees being serviced make it desirable to adopt the procedures of the serviced activity. (T-1)

4.3.3. Indication of whether the recognized labor union or work council will represent specified employees and if current collective bargaining agreements will apply.

4.3.4. Indication of changes in Competitive Area. When CPS servicing is centralized, determine if employees are to compete for retention under reduction-in-force regulations in the same or separate reduction-in-force competitive areas, within the local commuting area. The reduction-in-force competitive area should be clearly defined and published for all employees and managers. (T-1)

MANAGING CIVILIAN PERSONNEL RESOURCES

5.1. Managing Civilian Resources. Managing appropriated civilian resources demands a proactive plan, discipline, and integrity, both in programming and executing civilian resources. Accurate requirement projections and development of employment plans are critical to support the workload demand within budget, while executing work-years, end strength and civilian pay resources. Tools used in the overall management of civilian resources are:

5.1.1. Position Management and Classification. DAF management officials and supervisors assign duties and responsibilities to individual civilian positions to accomplish the air and space defense mission in an orderly, efficient, and economical manner. AFI 36-1401 governs the General Schedule and Wage Grade. Classification of AcqDemo positions will be in accordance with the Federal Register Notice (FRN), Ops Guide, and OPM standards.

5.1.2. Civilian Employment Management. DAF is committed to managing civilian manpower within Congressional and budgetary constraints while also balancing mission needs with economy and efficiency of operations. (T-1) AFPD 38-1, Manpower and Organization, governs policy on manpower management of the DAF, including the civilian workforce. Primary controlling factors in managing civilian resources are the identification and validation of civilian manpower requirements by the servicing manpower office, availability of manpower authorizations, financial resources, and fiscal limitations.

5.1.3. Financial Management. DAF promotes and implements financial discipline, fiscal integrity, and responsible financial services. (T-1) AFPD 65-1, Management of Financial Services, governs policy on appropriated and non-appropriated funds administration and control to ensure compliance with the Anti-deficiency Act as well as all statutory and regulatory limitations. It also provides policy guidance to ensure that responsive financial services are provided to DAF personnel.

5.1.4. Civilian Resource Management. Management officials at every level must work together with the appropriate civilian personnel, manpower, and financial management advisors to ensure civilian resources are managed within budget while managing mission needs. (T-1) Cost effectiveness, operational economy, efficiency, skills, career paths, employee development and motivation, recruitment, and retention of competent employees are essential. When necessary, an analysis and impact downsizing or closure must be assessed. (T-1)

5.2. Managing Civilian Resources. Management officials who employ civilian personnel must prudently manage civilian resources and will be held accountable for their immediate supervision. (T-1) Managers and higher-level supervisors at each level must evaluate their subordinate supervisors on how well they manage their civilian resources and take prompt and appropriate action to correct or reward supervisory performance. (T-1)

5.3. Workforce Management. Managers are responsible for taking a proactive approach to project future workforce needs to include analyzing their present workforce to identify turnover projections and retirement eligible employee numbers, determine current and projected staffing levels, and ascertain required competencies for future workforce objectives. (T-1)
5.4. Workforce Strategies. Civilian personnel, comptroller, and manpower staffs strategically collaborate with management officials by providing advice and guidance to effectively develop and execute workforce strategies.

5.5. Fiscal Year Planning. Effective management of civilian employment starts the fiscal year with a baseline strength/dollar amount and ends the fiscal year with the final strength/dollar amount expended. These numbers are compared against the beginning of the next fiscal year’s manpower allocation and documents the civilian pay dollars expended as a percentage of the budget for the fiscal year in which it was allocated. It is the goal of civilian employment planning to end the year as close to that final number as possible (for example, work-years and/or civilian pay dollars). The challenge of employment planning is to gain control of the civilian employment program at the beginning of the fiscal year, confront challenges and problems encountered along the way, and effectively manage civilian resources throughout the fiscal year.

5.6. Civilian Pay Funding. It is the goal of civilian employment planning to end the year as close to the final number as possible for both end-strength and civilian pay dollars.

5.7. Civilian Employment Plan. The primary purpose of the Civilian Employment Plan is to provide a plan for execution of fiscal year civilian work-years, and funding. The Civilian Employment Plan is a joint document between A1/S1, Manpower and Financial Management that is used to track and report civilian employment and resources, using a balance between dollars and work-years. The Civilian Employment Plan should:

5.7.1. Reflect the funded work-years as approved in the President’s Budget and may include DAF corporate changes, correction of programming errors or misdirected mission changes, as well as MAJCOM/FLDCOM/CCMD transfers.

5.7.2. Provide a baseline to measure civilian work-year/budget execution, measures progress on a regular basis.

5.7.3. Provide a month-to-month review and oversight of planned and actual work-year execution.

5.7.4. Track gains and losses in employment levels (for example, inbound and outbound civilians) using a standardized spreadsheet or locally developed data system product.

5.7.5. Track civilian manning (both authorized and assigned) and the expenditure of civilian pay dollars, including both actual and projected actions.

5.7.6. Identify issues affecting execution (for example, over-execution, under-execution, and mismatches in manning and funding, Future Years Defense Program changes).

5.7.6.1. The target or “end strength” is programmed by AF/A1M (manpower) or USSF/S1M, “work-years” are calculated by AF/A1 or USSF/S1M and Assistant Secretary of the Air Force for Financial Management and Comptroller (SAF/FM) and funding is the pricing of work-years. The combination of these factors drives the establishment, maintenance, and successful adherence to effective financial management of the civilian workforce.

5.7.6.2. MAJCOM FMA/A1K/A1M/FLDCOM/S1 (and CCMD Commanders equivalents) determines work-year distribution for their Centers/Wings. They identify corresponding work-years based on subordinate organization’s Unit Manning Document end strengths and pinpoint any additional MAJCOM/FLDCOM/CCMD transfers needed.
5.7.7. Provide management a tool to project the end-of-year position.

5.8. Corporate Boards. Corporate boards are chaired at all organizational levels by the Installation Commander or their designee. Voting members vary depending upon the organization level of the Board. For example, Wing Commanders/Vice Commander and Group Commanders or their civilian equivalents may be voting members on installation level boards. Functional managers from the civilian personnel, financial management, and manpower communities are obligatory board members. (T-1) The Staff Judge Advocate may serve as an advisory member. The overall goal of civilian employment planning is the full, effective utilization of civilian resources to accomplish assigned, mission-related work within a given civilian pay budget. The corporate boards at each organizational level with support from the manpower, comptroller, and civilian personnel communities are responsible for managing employment planning. The boards are established to ensure that civilian resources are used most effectively and efficiently.

5.8.1. Corporate boards meet regularly to:

5.8.1.1. Review turnover, hiring timelines, lapse rates and the utilization of resources for seasonal work requirements (for example, snow removal, grass cutting, etc.).

5.8.1.2. Approve/disapprove requests for over hires. Consider challenges such as reductions in civilian pay dollars, workload realignments, incentive/performance awards, retirements, pay adjustments (for example, cost-of-living increases, changes in geographic locations, special salary rates, etc.), within-grade increases and quality step increases.

5.8.1.3. Consider other issues affecting Civilian Employment Plan execution which include manpower impacts such as downsizing, in sourcing and out-sourcing, realigning, and rebalancing the force using workforce shaping measures. For example, Voluntary Early Retirement Authority, Voluntary Separation Incentive Pay and Reduction-in-Force), conversions to permanent authorizations from other sources such as career broadening, PALACE Acquires, Pathways, Unit Manning Document changes due to Congressional budget shortages, and organizational restructuring as well as furloughs (both administrative and shutdown).

5.8.1.4. Identify and face the hindrances that impact their ability to achieve overall Civilian Employment Plan goals and overcome obstacles such as a slow employment process, downsizing due to Base Realignment and Closure or manpower reductions, military-civilian conversions, overly conservative advisors, funding shortfalls, competing/conflicting interests, or inadequate pay data and analysis.

5.8.1.5. Monitor the Civilian Employment Plan closely, advise senior management on a regular basis on the status of the Civilian Employment Plan, and keep the support team advised of key management decisions and information that affects civilian employment levels. (T-1)

5.8.2. Beginning and end strength/dollars allocated, form the basis for annual hiring plans.

5.8.3. Support staff provide corporate boards with reliable data (i.e., actual gains, losses, and projected hires), patterns (i.e., when retirements occur, workforce shaping timelines, college and university graduation dates, recruitment fair schedules), and advice regarding monitoring accomplishments towards meeting goals and any over/under-execution.
5.8.4. The Board provides managers and supervisors with targets for civilian resource operating budgets, allocates directed adjustments and redistributes surplus funds.

5.8.5. Members are to remain flexible to oversee Human Resources (HR)-related issues while ensuring resources align with strategic planning, process improvements, process integration, and senior level direction.
Chapter 6

EXPEDITIONARY CIVILIAN WORKFORCE

6.1. Expeditionary Civilian Deployment Program. The DAF will administer an expeditionary civilian deployment program aligned with the DoD, Joint Staff and CCMD Commander Demand Signal and Force Pool. (T-1) The Expeditionary Civilian Workforce Program is separate from Emergency-Essential positions with programmed DAF deployment requirements. Emergency-Essential operational guidance is located in the AFPC myPers civilian site.

6.2. Voluntary Sourcing Methods. The DAF will utilize authorized voluntary sourcing methods to meet ordered un-programmed requirements. (T-1) If a requirement cannot be met, justification and risk analysis will be a collaborative effort between the Career Field Manager and the AFPC Expeditionary Civilian team. Deployment reclamas will be endorsed by AF/A1, on behalf of functional community, and staffed to Joint Staff for resolution. (T-1)

6.3. Employee Safety and Well-being. As part of the total force, the safety and well-being of deployed civilian Airmen and Guardians are a top priority. Deployed civilian employees will be managed the same as military service members to the extent practical. Deploying civilian employees will be processed by existing DAF deployment procedures. The AFPC Expeditionary Civilian Team will provide any variances. Medical assessments will be conducted for deploying civilians and Capability Based Volunteers. All health protection measures in DoDI 6490.03, Deployment Health, will be applied along with a system of accountability for oversight of pre-and post-deployment health assessment requirement. (T-1) Medical assessments and pre or post deployment medical processing requirements apply to both un-programmed and programmed expeditionary civilian deployments. Deploying personnel must comply with all deployment requirements and health assessments. (T-3)
7.1. Emergency-Essential and Mission-Essential positions. Emergency-Essential positions have a deployment requirement and Mission-Essential positions are those that are needed to ensure the continued operation of mission essential functions and remain at home station or are required to report to work during severe weather, Force Protection Condition levels, Force Health Protection levels, etc. Refer to the definition in the AFPC myPers website at https://mypers.af.mil/app/categories/c/481/p/3.

7.2. Emergency-Essential Position Management:

7.2.1. Request to remove known Emergency-Essential employees from their military mobilization obligation after contacting the union, if the employee belongs to a bargaining unit. See Attachment 2 for Requesting Removal of An Employee from Military Recall Status template.

7.2.3. Include the following statement on the Office Personnel Description: "This is a Mission-Essential position performing a Mission-Critical function which must continue uninterrupted after the occurrence of an emergency and continue through full resumption of all functions". See Department of Defense Directive (DoDD) 1100.4, Guidance for Manpower Management.

7.2.4. Use vacancy announcements to fill unoccupied Emergency-Essential positions. Insert a statement in the announcement if employees must be removed from military mobilization obligation in order to be employed. For Emergency-Essential positions, indicate that selectees must sign DD Form 2365, DoD Civilian Employees Overseas Emergency-Essential Position Agreement or DoD DD Form 2365-1, DoD Expeditionary Civilian Agreement Capability-Based Volunteer. (If you do not use vacancy announcements, develop local procedures to make sure the Civilian Personnel Officer/Section or supervisor notifies candidates of any applicable conditions when they are referred for an Emergency-Essential position.)

7.2.5. For further guidance see 10 USC § 1580, Emergency essential employees: designation; DoDD 1100.4, and DoDD 1400.31, DoD Civilian Work Force Contingency and Emergency Planning and Execution. Also see AFPC myPers website at https://mypers.af.mil/app/categories/c/481/p/3.

7.3. Supervisors:

7.3.1. Explain wartime and exercise roles to civilian employees.

7.3.2. Integrate civilian work force preparedness planning into all automated and manual contingency deliberate planning and execution processes.

7.3.3. Notify the Civilian Personnel Officer/Section and the union (for bargaining unit employees) when the Reserve category or military recall status of employees change.

7.3.4. Include training required to meet contingency needs in the base training plan.

7.3.5. Keep emergency notification information for employees up-to-date and accessible.

7.3.6. To administer Emergency-Essential positions:
7.3.6.1. Include a statement substantially similar to the following in each Emergency-Essential position description: "This position is emergency-essential. In the event of a crisis situation, the incumbent, or designated alternate, must continue to perform the Emergency-Essential duties until relieved by proper authority. The incumbent or the designated alternate may be required to take part in readiness exercises. This position cannot be vacated during a national emergency or mobilization without seriously impairing the capability of the organization to function effectively. This meets the criteria of an Emergency-Essential position and requires that the incumbent, or the designated alternate, be removed from any military recall status."

7.3.6.2. Identify Emergency-Essential employees and alternate Emergency-Essential employees during the deliberate planning process.

7.3.6.3. Limit exigency designations. Send names of Emergency-Essential and alternate Emergency-Essential employees to CPS.

7.3.6.3.1. Advise Emergency-Essential employees of the requirements of Emergency-Essential positions and their pre-deployment planning responsibilities at least once a year.

7.3.6.3.2. Train and equip Emergency-Essential employees for their Emergency-Essential duties.

7.3.6.3.3. Process civilian employees for deployment according to AFI 10-403, Deployment Planning and Execution; DAFI 36-3802, Force Support Readiness Programs; and this instruction.

7.3.6.3.4. Advise candidates and selectees for Emergency-Essential positions that they must sign DoD DD Form 2365 and be removed from military mobilization obligation as conditions of employment.

7.3.6.3.5. If Emergency-Essential or alternate Emergency-Essential employees are also Reserve members of the Armed Forces, request their removal from their military mobilization obligations. Use the format shown in Attachment 2 of this instruction. Send requests to CPS.

7.3.8. Supervisors must review Attachment 3 with the employee. (T-1)

7.4. Releasing Employees from an Emergency-Essential Agreement. Organization commanders may release Emergency-Essential employees from their Emergency-Essential agreement and permit them to leave the crisis area after other non-combatants evacuate only if:

7.4.1. The commanders determine they no longer need the employee; or 7.4.2. The employee can no longer do the job due to a physical or mental condition.

7.5. Commanders. Should consider the needs of the supported commander and any rotation policy affecting military members for that contingency. (T-1)

7.6. Requirements to Fulfill Emergency-Essential Duties:

7.6.1. All Emergency-Essential employees must perform Emergency-Essential duties during a crisis or after non-combatants evacuate. (T-1)
7.6.2. Overseas Emergency-Essential employees must remain overseas. (T-1)

7.6.3. United States-based Emergency-Essential employees must relocate, when requested, to the overseas duty location on a temporary duty or permanent change of station basis. (T-1)

7.6.4. Failure to fulfill assigned Emergency-Essential duties may cause action to be taken against employees under 5 CFR, Part 752, Adverse Actions, and DAFI 36-148, Discipline and Adverse Actions of Civilian Employees. (T-1)

7.7. Local National Employee Management:

7.7.1. Update the military recall status of employees.

7.7.2. Identify local national civilian employees who are essential in contingencies during Base level planning process.

7.7.3. Provide the names of these employees to the CPS. For an example, these names could be used for creating and maintaining a strike plan.

7.7.4. Meet all protections required by the Status of Forces Agreement. Request employees' removal from their military mobilization obligations if the Status of Forces Agreement allows.

7.8. Employees:

7.8.1. Report to work at your normal duty station during periods of national emergency, mobilization, war, military crisis, natural disaster, or other contingency, unless you are officially told not to report at all or to report to another location.

Overtime and callback procedures in DoDI1400.25-V610_AFI 36-807, Scheduling of Work and Holiday Observances and Status of Forces Agreements apply when you work during the alert, or an exercise occurs outside of regularly scheduled duty hours.

7.8.3. If you are a Reserve member of the Armed Forces, tell your supervisor about your Reserve category and military recall status and any changes in your status.

7.8.4. If you are an Emergency-Essential employee designated to perform Emergency-Essential duties, you must:

7.8.4.1. Deploy to or remain in overseas theaters of operation after other non-combatants evacuate the area.

7.8.4.2. Sign a DoD Form 2365 when you are selected for a vacant Emergency-Essential position.

7.8.4.3. Agree to your removal from any military mobilization obligations.

7.8.4.4. Comply with deployment processing procedures as outlined in AFI 10-403, DAFI 36-3802, and any reporting instructions provided by the Unit Deployment Manager/Installation Personnel Readiness Office.

7.8.4.5. Follow work guidelines for the theater of operation (for example Geneva Conventions and the customs of the country to which you are assigned).

7.8.4.6. Be prepared. See AFI 10-403 and Attachment 3 of this instruction.

7.9.1. Go to your designated safe haven. The safe-haven information appears on your evacuation orders or may be given to you verbally.

7.9.2. Contact the nearest DAF CPS to your safe haven as instructed in official announcements.

7.9.3. Give your safe-haven location, address, telephone number, and any changes in the address or telephone number to the CPS.

CIVILIAN PERSONNEL RECORDKEEPING

8.1. Overview. 5 CFR, Part 293, Personnel Records, and the OPM Guide to Personnel Recordkeeping prescribe the minimum requirements governing the creation, development, maintenance, processing, use, dissemination and safeguarding of personnel records that OPM requires federal agencies to maintain. Although these records are in virtual or physical custody of the DAF, they remain the property of the OPM.

8.1.1. Personnel Recordkeeping. The Guide to Personnel Recordkeeping delegates to the DAF the authority to establish filing requirements for certain documents pertaining to civilian employees. The eOPF is maintained in the OPM Enterprise HR system. (T-0)

8.1.2. Documents. This Instruction does not provide instructions on completing specific documents; applicable guidance is located in the publications prescribing those documents.

8.2. Electronic Official Personnel Folder. HR Specialists in the Enterprise HR Integration office within the OPM maintain the integrity of each serviced employee’s eOPF. Each person authorized access to an eOPF is responsible for safeguarding the confidential nature of information available in and gained from the folder.

8.2.1. Designated Officials. Only employees whose official duties require access and use of personnel records may have access to an eOPF. (T-0) OPM restricts access to these files; they are not public records and are available to review for official purposes only.

8.2.2. Employee Access. Employees may view any of the contents of their eOPF with the exception of particular examination papers, investigative reports, loyalty and security investigative information, confidential questionnaires and employment inquiries, unless otherwise required pursuant a collective bargaining agreement or local supplement.

8.2.3. Creating the eOPF. HRStaffing Specialists from the AFPC Functional Group Servicing Teams establish and merging of the eOPF using the procedures found in Chapter 2 of the OPM Guide to Personnel Recordkeeping.

8.2.4. Reconstructing the eOPF. When required, HR Staffing Specialists from the Functional Group Servicing Teams reconstruct the eOPF using procedures found in Chapter 4 of the OPM Guide to Personnel Recordkeeping.

8.2.5. Merged Records. When the employee has service both under the OPMs recordkeeping authority and other personnel systems not under the OPMs recordkeeping authority, update the eOPF to reflect “merged” in the employee’s profile. Each agency retains “ownership” of its records even though the records are combined in a “merged” eOPF.

8.2.6. Transferring Records. When an individual discontinues service with DAF, the OPFs Management Section transfers the OPF or eOPF to the gaining agency or the National Personnel Records Center using the procedures found in Chapter 7 of the OPM Guide to Personnel Recordkeeping and OPMs Enterprise Human Resources Integration Operational Guidance. When an employee is reassigned to a position resulting in a change in his/her servicing personnel office, the HR Staffing Specialists from the Functional Group Servicing Teams and Quality Reviewers ensure accuracy of all the documents within the OPF or eOPF.
8.3. Supervisor’s Employee Work Folder. The Supervisor’s Employee Work Folder is a set of records used in managing the performance of employees at the unit level. It consists of records (e.g., Supervisor’s Employee Brief and related documents) at or near the work site depending on conditions of the supervisor and employee relationship to the work site, such as: availability of secure storage containers; facilities for counseling in private; distances between work site, crew office, and supervisor’s and manager’s office; climate; availability of transportation; etc. The following is a list of records normally maintained by the supervisor in the Employee Work Folder. An explanation of these records is found in paragraphs 3 through 10.

8.3.2. Training Records.
8.3.3. Complaints of Indebtedness.
8.3.4. Leave Schedules.
8.3.5. Official Position Description. Examples include, but are not limited to, the DAF Form 1003, Department of the Air Force (DAF) Core Personnel Document (CPD) or Position Requirements Document (PRD).
8.3.6. SF Form 50, Notice of Personnel Action
8.3.7. Copy of employee Performance Appraisal and Backup Information.
8.3.8. DD Form 2365, DoD Civilian Employee Overseas Emergency - Essential Position Agreement.
8.3.9. Telework/Remote Agreement and corresponding training certificate.
8.3.10. Disciplinary Documents (if applicable).

8.4. Disposition and Safeguarding of The Supervisor’s Employee Work Folder. The following procedures are used in disposing of the Supervisor’s Employee Work Folder:

8.4.1. When a supervisor leaves the organization, the Supervisor’s Employee Work Folder is retained for the gaining supervisor. (T-1)
8.4.2. When an employee moves to a different organization on the same base, the losing supervisor sends the complete up-to-date Employee Work Folder to the gaining supervisor. (T-1)
8.4.3. When an employee is transferred to another installation or another agency, the Employee Work Folder is destroyed after 60 days. (T-1)
8.4.4. When an employee is separated for any other reason other than entrance into military service or an adverse action, the supervisor destroys the Employee Work Folder after 60 days. (T-1)
8.4.5. When an employee is separated as a result of an adverse action, the Employee Brief and any supporting documents contained in the Supervisor’s Employee Work Folder are destroyed when no longer needed for pending grievance, appeal, EEO complaint, or Unfair Labor Practice charge. CPF advice should be obtained before destruction. (T-1)
8.4.6. When an employee is separated to enter military service, the supervisor sends the Employee Work Folder to the CPF. (T-1)
8.4.7. Unless otherwise specified in a collective bargaining agreement, reprimands maintained in the work folder must be destroyed 2 years from date of notice of decision to reprimand, and an oral admonishment recorded on the AF Form 971 must be deleted 2 years from the date of admonishment. (T-1)

8.4.8. These records require procedures that ensure safekeeping and storage in a manner that will protect against casual access to them, that will ensure disclosure of them to Air Force officials or others outside of the Air Force only when appropriate, and that will not violate personal privacy. Describing explicitly every use of these records or describing all circumstances when they will be disclosed outside of the Department of the Air Force is not feasible. All supervisors and employees maintaining these records must be cautioned that they are to use discretion and good judgment when asked to furnish the records; and furnish the records only as permitted by the Privacy Act. (T-1)

EMERGENCY-ESSENTIAL EMPLOYEE PERSONAL PREPAREDNESS

A3.2. Making Family Care Plans. Emergency-Essential employees may be away from their families for a long period of time. For example, when dependents evacuate an overseas location or employees deploy overseas. Maintain an up-to-date family care plan that will allow for a rapid and smooth transfer of responsibilities to another individual during such separations:

- Use AFI 36-2908, Family Care Plans, as a guide to preparing family care plans.
- Leave a copy of your temporary duty travel orders with family members.
- Give family members the telephone numbers of critical base organizations such as your unit, family support center, and Red Cross representative.

A3.3. Medical Preparedness. Deployment locations may have limited medical support. Do not plan on being able to obtain prescription refills, replacement lenses for eyeglasses or contact lenses, or hearing aid batteries. Bring sufficient supplies to carry you through until resupply arrangements are in place.

A3.4. Making Legal Arrangements. Legal issues affecting you or your family members may arise during your absence. Preparations should include:

- Providing powers of attorney to family members and updating your will.
- Leaving copies of each legal document designating a person to act on your behalf or on behalf of your estate in the United States, so that the designee can access the documents.

A3.5. Making Financial Arrangements. Make sure to start or stop proper allotments or other arrangements before you must deploy to ensure that bills are paid.
