ENCLOSURE 3PROCEDURES

1. MEMBERS. This section applies to the Members identified in paragraph 1.b. above the signature of this Instruction.

a. General

(1) All Members are responsible for the care of dependent family members during deployments and temporary duty, as at all other times. All members shall develop a family care plan. For Service members, failure to produce a family care plan within the periods stipulated in paragraph 1.e. of this enclosure may result in disciplinary action and/or administrative separation in accordance with References (f) and (g).

(2) Each Member shall:

(a) Discuss with his or her Commander the necessity for and what is needed to develop an adequate family care plan. This discussion shall include plans for arranging the logistical, financial, medical, educational, and legal documentation necessary to ensure continuity of care and support for dependent family members.

1. (ADDED)(AF) Complete his or her family care plan using the AF Form 357, or any future Air Force-provided virtual system that supersedes the AF Form 357. (T-2). Implementation may also be required during duty hours, exercises, alerts, extended duty hours, extreme weather evacuations, Permanent Change of Station or Permanent Change of Assignment and similar military obligations.

(b) Attempt, to the greatest extent possible, to inform the non-custodial biological or adoptive parent of his or her children, as applicable and as far in advance as practicable, of his or her impending absence due to military orders as recommended in section 556 of Senate Report 111-35 (Reference (l)).

(c) Attempt, to the greatest extent possible, to obtain the consent of the non-custodial biological or adoptive parent to any family care plan that would leave his or her child in the custody of a third party.

1. (ADDED)(AF) If the situation warrants, consult with Staff Judge Advocate prior to designating a non-custodial parent as the short- or long-term caregiver. Document the name of any non-custodial biological or adoptive parent not named as the caregiver, along with that person's consent to the family care plan. (T-3). If this individual does not consent, the Member should explain the absence of such consent in writing and acknowledge the availability of legal counsel to discuss the associated risks and the best possible course of action (including the possibility of incorporating the family care plan into a temporary order by a court of competent jurisdiction).

(d) Certify his or her family care plan on an annual basis with his or her Commander.

(e) (ADDED)(AF) Ensure all applicable family members' schools or other normal care providing organizations are aware when the member needs to execute a family care plan. (T-2). This will ensure caregiver will be allowed to pick up family members. Additionally, if the parent homeschools their child, they must determine the legality, willingness, and qualification of the caregiver to continue the homeschool instruction, or make a plan to enroll the child/children in another school. (T-2).

(f) (ADDED)(AF) Implement family care plan when required to be absent from their family members. (T-3). Military members should be prepared to ensure the safety of their families in the event of activation of noncombatant evacuation operations or other emergency evacuation situations.

b. Arranging for Caregivers. Each Member shall arrange for a caregiver and shall:

(1) Brief the caregiver on financial, medical, legal, educational, and logistical arrangements (to include discussion and arrangements to relocate the caregiver or family member to a designated location), military facilities, services, benefits, and entitlements of the dependent family members.

(a) (ADDED)(AF) Ensure appropriate steps are taken so the caregiver(s) can use the base exchange, commissary, and military treatment facility on the member's behalf in caring for family members during periods of absence (T-3). Contact military personnel flight (MPF) for assistance with an Agent Letter for Authorized Patrons. If the caregiver(s) reside closer to another installation and will be using those facilities, coordination with the MPF of the distant installation may be required to ensure the caregiver(s) can use that installation's facilities.

(2) Provide the caregiver copies of power(s) of attorney, wills, and other documents determined necessary by the Military Departments.

(a) (ADDED)(AF) Execute a power of attorney for all caregivers to allow for medical care, enrollment in school, and any other actions which may be necessary to ensure the proper care of family members (unless designated caregiver has these legal rights, i.e., ex-spouse). (T-2). Consider a power of attorney to act in loco parentis, as it may be required in some states. Note: Acceptability of a power of attorney differs for each State. Consult with the base Staff Judge Advocate office. (T-2).

1. (ADDED)(AF) Provide a physical or electronic copy of each power of attorney for filing with the family care plan in the commander's support staff, first sergeant's, or commander's office. (T-2).

2. (ADDED)(AF) Airmen shall retain the original and give a copy to the caregiver upon assumption of custody of family members. (T-2).

(3) Provide the caregiver with information on existing military and private sector community support resources from which he or she can receive assistance (e.g., location and points of contact for family support groups, community and family support centers, schools, social service organizations, and on-line support such as Military OneSource (available on the Internet at <http://www.militaryonesource.com/home.aspx?MRole=&Branch=&Component=>)). The Member can obtain this information from family centers; unit and State family readiness program directors, coordinators, and/or ombudsman; child care centers; schools; private sector social service organizations; and on-line resources (e.g., Military OneSource and Military HOMEFRONT (available at <http://www.militaryhomefront.dod.mil/>)).

(4) Discuss with and provide information to the caregiver about the potential behavioral changes of children during a long-term separation to assist the caregiver in determining how best to support, sustain, and assist children during a deployment or other separation. A Member whose caregiver is not located near a family program coordinator or family center may arrange to have information mailed or e-mailed to the caregiver from the family center at the Member's duty station, social service organizations, installation libraries, or Military OneSource.

c. Developing Family Care Plans. Each Member shall develop and forward an adequate family care plan through the appropriate chain of command for filing as prescribed by the regulations of the Military Department or the CEW organization concerned. The complete plan shall include, at a minimum:

(1) Applicable documentation identifying:

(a) Names and contact information of the caregiver and alternate caregiver.

1. (ADDED)(AF) Designate a primary (long-term) caregiver on the family care plan to care for family members during Member's absence. (T-2). The primary caregiver(s) must be able to care for family members for any length of time the Air Force may require the Member to be absent from family members and therefore must not be another military member.

2. (ADDED)(AF) Designate an individual (short-term caregiver) on the family care plan to assume temporary care of family members if primary (long-term) caregiver won't be immediately available or if the unit commander determines a short-term caregiver is essential to ensure the workability of the family care plan. (T-2). The short-term caregiver must reside in the local vicinity and may be a military member. The installation commander determines local vicinity. This may be further defined by the member's immediate commander based on mission requirements such as response time to recalls, response to deployment requirements, etc. For Reservists and Air National Guard personnel who do not reside at or near their permanent duty station, their unit commander will define the local vicinity in writing in the remarks section of AF Form 357. (T-3).

(b) Provisions for short-term absences (e.g., temporary duty for schooling or training, or, in the case of RC members, active duty for training) and long-term absences (e.g., deployment or call to active duty), to include the period (beginning and end date) of time covered by the family care plan.

(c) Financial arrangements, allotment(s), and other appropriate documentation, to include power(s) of attorney, to ensure the self-sufficiency and financial security of dependent family members.

1. (ADDED)(AF) Member must ensure caregiver(s) has access to adequate funds and transportation to support family members during Member's absence. (T-3).

(d) Logistical arrangements for the transportation of dependent family members and/or caregivers to a new location, including arrangements for a non-military escort for family members requiring assistance (e.g., infants and children, elderly and disabled adults) if the situation or personal circumstances so dictate, and arrangements for the medical, legal, educational, and financial support necessary to ensure continuity of care during the transport.

(e) The name of any non-custodial biological or adoptive parent not named as the caregiver, along with that person's consent to the family care plan. If this individual does not consent, the Member should explain the absence of such consent in writing and acknowledge the availability of legal counsel to discuss the associated risks and the best possible courses of action (including the possibility of incorporating the family care plan into a temporary order by a court of competent jurisdiction).

(f) The name of the person the Member designates, in the event of his or her death or incapacity, to assume temporary responsibility for dependent family members until a natural or adoptive parent or legal guardian assumes custody either by order of a court of competent jurisdiction or operation of law.

1. (ADDED)(AF) The temporary custodian must reside in the local vicinity to ensure immediate control of family member(s) can be assumed. (T-3). This temporary custodian may be a military member.

(2) A statement signed by the Member certifying that the caregiver has accepted responsibility for care of the Member's dependent family members, including provisions for short- and long-term separations. The statement shall verify that the Member has briefed the caregiver and provided the caregiver copies of documents required for inclusion in the family care plan.

(3) (ADDED)(AF) Additional information meant to assist the caregiver and dependents with the transition of care and to deal with the absence of the parent. Document additional information in the remarks section of the family care plan and include the following types of information:

(a) Full name, date of birth, sex, school grade, name and address of school, school phone number, after-school care facility or routine care provider (if not school age) point of contact and phone number for all dependents. (T-3).

(b) Indicate if any family members are part of Exceptional Family Member Program or have any special medical needs, language limitations, or other unique situations

(attention deficit disorder, speech impediments, medications, phobias, etc.) a caregiver should be aware of for all dependents for whom they will be responsible. (T-3).

(c) Directions and street address to residence, schools, churches, routine care provider, and any other facilities the caregiver will need to be familiar with to take custody of dependents or to provide for them while under his/her care. (T-3).

d. Updating Family Care Plans. A Member shall revise his or her family care plan when changes in family circumstances, or other personal status, result in the Member becoming responsible for the logistical, medical, or financial support of another person. Such family circumstances include, but are not limited to:

(1) Birth of a child.

(2) Adoption of a child.

(3) Loss of a spouse through death, separation, or divorce.

(4) Enlistment or commissioning in the military (AC or RC) or employment in the CEW of a spouse that results in the Member and spouse becoming a dual-Member couple with responsibility for dependent family members.

(5) Absence of a spouse through career or job commitments or other personal reasons that result in the Member assuming responsibility for dependent family members.

(6) Assumption of sole care for an elderly or disabled family member.

(7) (ADDED)(AF) Complete, revise, or recertify the family care plan upon arrival at a new unit, notification of assignment, when personal status or family circumstances change, or during the annual recertification briefing. (T-2).

e. Family Care Plan Timelines. Members shall meet these deadlines for submission of their family care plans:

(1) Final Family Care Plan

(a) All Service members on active duty and all CEW members shall submit the final family care plan through the chain of command within 60 days of the discussion with the Commander that is required by subparagraph 1.a.(2)(a) of this enclosure. For Service members, failure to produce the family care plan may result in disciplinary or administrative action that may result in separation from the Service.

(i) (ADDED)(AF) Failure by military members to obey this paragraph is a violation of Article 92 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice. Violations may result in administrative disciplinary action without regard to otherwise applicable criminal or civil sanctions for violations of related laws. Violations of these provisions by civilian employees may result in administrative action being taken without regard to other applicable criminal or civil sanctions for violations of related laws.

(b) RC members shall submit the final family care plan within 90 days of alert notification by the organizational function designated by the Military Department concerned.

(2) Notice of a Change in Family Circumstances

(a) All Service members on active duty and all CEW members shall notify their Commanders no later than 30 days after a change in family circumstances or personal status that generates the requirement for, or update of, a family care plan.

(b) Ready Reservists shall notify the authority designated by Military Department regulations no later than 60 days after a change in circumstance or personal status that generates the requirement for, or update of, a family care plan.

(3) Annual Certification. Members shall annually provide written certification to their Commanders that the family care plan is current.

(4) Exceptions. If mitigating circumstances are involved, a Commander may grant a Member additional time to submit an adequate family care plan. This additional time is intended to accommodate those Members who are actively in the process of obtaining written agreements or court orders and have advised their Commanders of their actions and progress.

(5) (ADDED)(AF) Departure for Overseas Assignment. Complete the family care plan before departure and provide to the new commander. (T-2). Make arrangements for designated individuals to evacuate and care for family members if member is accompanied and serving in an overseas location covered by a noncombatant evacuation operation (NEO) plan. (T-2). When filling out the NEO section of the family care plan, a member must list one person to be the primary escort, while providing an alternate escort is optional. (T-2). Any other specific theater needs will be documented by the responsible Major Command. (T-3). Note: For the purpose of the family care plan, Alaska and Hawaii are considered overseas locations.

2. MILITARY DEPARTMENTS. The Military Departments shall:

b. Require Members to submit family care plans to their Commanders for review.

c. Require that family care plans be validated annually by either the Commander or, for the RCs, by an appropriate organizational element designated by the RC. Validation is complete when the Member and the Commander or RC-designated activity discuss the adequacy of the current plan to cover all reasonable contingencies. The Commander and/or the Military Service Inspector General shall inspect the annually validated family care plan.

d. Advise Members that their ability to serve can not be impacted negatively by their role as a parent, and that they must be able to satisfactorily perform their duties and remain available for worldwide assignment or deployment at all times. Advise Service members that their failure to do so can result in separation from the Service.

e. Provide caregivers access to installation facilities on behalf of Members to assist them in caring for dependent family members during periods of absence of the Member so that the caregiver is able to meet the conditions of the family care plan. Such access shall:

(1) Be granted based on family care plan forms, agent letters, letters of authorization, or power(s) of attorney as may be necessary to provide authorized entitlements to the Member's family in accordance with DoDIs 1330.17 and 1330.09 (References (m) and (n)). The Military Departments shall accept proper documentation, regardless of the issuing branch of Service or RC category.

(2) Include access to training, counseling, call-center consultations (e.g., Military OneSource) and services, webinar sessions, document translation, telephonic translation services, and other services needed for them to meet their obligations as set forth in the family care plan.

f. Require RC members to submit family care plans. Copies of the family care plan shall remain with the appropriate RC military personnel office or unit as a part of the local personnel or training records.

(1) RC family care plans shall be inspected by the Commander(s) concerned or an agency designated by the Military Department at least annually.

(2) In cases of RC member non-compliance with this Instruction, Commanders may recommend discharge or, if the Service member is eligible, transfer to an inactive or retired status, in accordance with DoDD 1200.7 (Reference (o)).

(3) To increase awareness of the potential impact of long-term or sudden deployments, and to ensure RC members establish adequate, realistic, and workable family care plans, make resources available to them as needed to prepare and submit their plans. Refer RC members to:

(a) The appropriate family readiness program coordinator, director, ombudsman, private sector social service organizations, or other sources of assistance located in proximity to the member's unit or home.

(b) On-line resources (e.g., Military OneSource and Military HOMEFRONT).

(c) Installation family centers, legal assistance offices, child care centers, and other offices that retain lists of certified child care providers, including private sector community organizations that maintain lists of licensed caregivers in the community.

g. Ensure that family centers and other installation resources support Members in developing a family care plan by providing information and assistance when requested, but shall not delegate the authority or responsibility for family care plans.

(1) If needed, family centers shall provide individual counseling to Members and contractors requiring assistance in the development of the family care plan.

(2) Information provided by the family center shall cover subjects and problem areas faced by families when a Member deploys (e.g., separation anxiety, coping skills, parenting tips, stress management, communications, schooling, financial arrangements, and location of key documents).

3. COMMANDERS. Commanders shall:

a. Require that the Members under their command, as identified in paragraph 1.b. above the signature of this Instruction, create and maintain duly-executed family care plans consistent with this Instruction. Ensure Members keep their family care plans up-to-date at all times.

b. Take a pro-active, hands-on role to ensure Members of their command fully understand the purpose and importance of a comprehensive family care plan, as well as its limitations, and encourage them to observe the guidance in this Instruction.

c. Ensure that Members fully understand the unique demands of military and CEW service as it relates to personal and family responsibilities and the necessity for realistic family care arrangements to ensure that Members are available for worldwide duty.

d. Inform Service members that they may be subject to administrative or disciplinary action and may be separated from the Service for failure to have an adequate family care plan.

e. Inform Members of the overriding authority of State courts to determine child custody arrangements, notwithstanding a family care plan, in accordance with Reference (1).

f. Advise Members of the risks involved if they are unable or unwilling to contact or gain the consent of the non-custodial biological or adoptive parent if the family care plan would leave the child in the custody of a third party. Strongly encourage them to obtain legal advice as far in advance of the absence as is practicable about the implications of failing to include the non-custodial biological or adoptive parent in the family care plan process. Emphasize that the failure to involve, or at least inform, the non-custodial biological or adoptive parent of custody arrangements in anticipation of an absence can undermine, or even render useless, the family care plan, in accordance with Reference (1).

g. Encourage Members to seek the assistance of military and community support resources, to include family support centers; legal assistance offices; family program directors, coordinators, and ombudsmen; Service relief organizations; the CEW Readiness Cell; and on-line resources (e.g., Military OneSource), in the completion of the family care plan.

(1) (ADDED)(AF) Commanders should work closely with the Airman and Family Readiness Center in developing their unit family care plan program. Commanders bear ultimate responsibility for the creation of and adequacy of their members' family care plans. (T-3). Commanders may grant the member an additional time to submit an acceptable family care plan for mitigating circumstances (i.e. court orders, obtaining written agreements)

k. (ADDED)(AF) Review and discuss with members to ensure the workability of the member's family care arrangement. (T-2).

l. (ADDED)(AF) Establish procedures to maintain family care plans for all unit personnel requiring a family care plan. (T-2). Dual military parents will each maintain a separate written family care plan in their unit of assignment. (T-2). Coordinate with the other commander to ensure uniformity and workability. (T-2). Document coordination by signing in section V, block 16 of AF Form 357. (T-2).

m. (ADDED)(AF) Normally delegate the authority to counsel members and certify the family care plan to the unit first sergeant. (T-3) Exception: Will delegate, in writing, to detachment and operating location (DET/OL) chiefs to counsel members and certify the family care plan for members who are geographically separated from commander or first sergeant's location. (T-3). DET/OL will file the original family care plan in the DET/OL administrative office and send a copy to the commander for review and filing. (T-3).

p. (ADDED)(AF) Counsel members on family care responsibilities when they receive assignments overseas. (T-1).

q. (ADDED)(AF) Ensure members complete the family care plan before final out-processing from the unit (except in the cases of retirement or separation). (T-2). Special attention should be placed on Airmen transitioning to a dependent-restricted location to ensure the Airman's family care plan accounts for the Airman's absence and inability to provide immediate support to their dependents.

4. LEGAL ASSISTANCE ATTORNEYS. Legal assistance attorneys or other qualified legal counsel shall, when appropriate, ensure their clients receive:

(1) A full explanation of the potential consequences of not including the non-custodial biological or adoptive parent in the creation of a family care plan.

(2) A discussion of appropriate courses of action, to include the benefits of validating temporary custody arrangements and the return of the child to the Member upon the Member's return, with an appropriate court.

5. (ADDED)(AF) FORCE SUPPORT SQUADRON COMMANDER.

Students required to have a family care plan must complete a family care plan to be maintained in the commander's support staff's, first sergeant's, or commander's office of the training center having administrative responsibility for the student or any future Air Force provided virtual system that supersedes the AF Form 357. (T-2).

c. Ensure applicants realize the unique demands of military service, the necessity for making and maintaining family care arrangements, and that failure to make such arrangements will subject the applicant to disciplinary action or involuntary separation. (T-2).

d. Ensure candidates requiring a family care plan work with the appropriate recruiting organization for completion of the family care plan prior to entry into the Air Force. (T-2).

7. (ADDED)(AF) MILITARY TRAINING CENTERS. Military training centers (i.e., Officer Training School, Academy of Military Science, Basic Military Training School, and technical training wings) will:

a. Counsel or brief all members on family care responsibilities. (T-2).
