Chapter 1

UNDERSTANDING PRIVACY AND HOW IT APPLIES TO THE AIR FORCE

1.1. Privacy Overview.

1.1.1. What is privacy? Although there is not an official government definition of privacy, it generally refers to the notion of individuals maintaining control over information about them. For the Air Force, the framework of privacy requirements includes the Privacy Act of 1974, the E-Government Act of 2002 (specifically section 208), Office of Management and Budget (OMB) policy, DoD policy, and Air Force policy. Failure to protect privacy can bring about risks to the individual, such as identity theft and risks to the Air Force, such as lawsuits for inappropriate disclosure that divert critical resources away from our mission.

1.1.2. What information must be protected? The information protected by the various components of the privacy framework is discussed using multiple terms. For the purposes of this Instruction, there are two key definitions to understand:

1.1.2.1. Personal Information (Personally Identifiable Information (PII))

1.1.2.1.1. Office of Management and Budget Memorandum 07-16, Safeguarding Against and Responding to PII Breach - Personally Identifiable Information is defined as information which can be used to distinguish or trace an individual's identity, such as their name, social security number, biometric records, etc. alone, or when combined with other personal or identifying information which is linked or linkable to a specific individual, such as date and place of birth, mother's maiden name, etc.

1.1.2.1.2. Office of Management and Budget Memorandum10-22, Online Use of Web Measurement and Customization Technologies - The definition of PII is not anchored to any single category of information or technology. Rather, it demands a case-by-case assessment of the specific risk that an individual can be identified. In performing this assessment, it is important for an agency to recognize that non-PII can become PII whenever additional information is made publicly available – in any medium and from any source – that, when combined with other available information, could be used to identify an individual.

1.1.2.2. For safeguarding of Personal Information, please refer to DoD 5400.11-R, Department of Defense Privacy Program (C1.4, C4 and Appendix 1).

1.1.2.3. PII maintained in a SOR accessed or handled by contractors. Contractors required to access or handle PII on behalf of the Air Force, will follow this Instruction. Organizations with contractors that access and handle PII will coordinate with contracting officials to ensure that contracts contain the proper Privacy Act clauses: 52.224-1, Privacy Act Notification; and 52.224-2, Privacy Act as required by the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) (see FAR website at: http://www.acquisition.gov/far/) Contracting Officers should also require non-disclosure agreements for contractors who will have access to sensitive PII. (T-0)

1.1.2.3.1. Contracts will be reviewed annually by the Contracting Office Representative (COR) to ensure compliance with this Instruction. (T-0)

1.1.2.3.2. Disclosure of PII maintained in a SOR to contractors for use in the performance of an Air Force contract is considered an official use disclosure within the agency under exception (b)(1) of the Privacy Act and protected as an inter/intra Agency disclosure per Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) exemption (b)(5).

1.1.2.4. PII Breach Reporting. Refer to Office of the Secretary of Defense Memorandum (OSD 06227-09, dated 5 June 2009), *Safeguarding Against and Responding to the*ictect*Breach of Personally Identifiable Information*, and Office of the Secretary of Defense Memorandum (2 August 2012), Use of Best Judgement for Individual Personally Identifiable Information (PII) Breach Notification Determinations.(T-0)

1.1.2.4.1. 1.3. Privacy Act Information.

1.3.1. Privacy Act Information is PII which is referred to as personal information that is maintained in a System of Records (SOR) as defined by the Privacy Act, which means the information is retrievable by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual.

1.3.2. Understanding Which Definition Applies. PII is a very broad definition and generally refers to any type of personal information that is linked or linkable to a person. PII may or may not be maintained in a SOR, which means it may or may not also be Privacy Act Information. When PII is maintained in a SOR, it is also Privacy Act Information. Both the Privacy Act requirements and other privacy requirements that protect PII in the privacy framework apply to Privacy Act Information. When PII is not maintained in a SOR, and therefore is not Privacy Act Information, the E-Government Act and many OMB, DoD, and AF policies that protect PII still apply to the information.

Chapter 2

2.1.2.4. Collect, maintain, use, or disseminate any record of identifiable personal information in a manner that assures that such action is for a necessary and lawful purpose, that the information is current for its intended use, and that adequate safeguards are provided to prevent misuse of such information;

2.3.5.1.1. Conduct an inquiry to determine if a formal investigation of the complaint or allegation of a Privacy Act violation is warranted.

2.3.5.1.2. Ensure a response is sent to the complainant through the Privacy Official. (Note: for Privacy Act complaints filed in a U.S. District Court against the AF, an AF activity, or an AF employee, the Office of The Judge Advocate's General Litigation Division (AFLOA/JACL) shall provide SAF/A6XA a litigation summary in accordance with the format in Appendix 8 of DoD 5400.11-R, Department of Defense Privacy Program.) When the court renders a formal opinion or judgment, AFLOA/JACL will send SAF/A6XA a copy of the judgment and opinion.

2.4. Maintaining Personal Information.

2.4.1. Each agency that maintains a SOR shall: (T-0)

2.4.2. Maintain in its records only information about an individual that is relevant and necessary to accomplish a purpose of the agency as required by a statute or executive order or their implementing regulations.

2.4.3. To the greatest extent practicable, collect personal information only directly from the subject individual when the information may result in adverse determinations about an individual's rights, benefits, and privileges under Federal programs.

2.4.3.1. Examples of when it is more practical to collect information from a third party instead of the subject individual include but are not limited to, the following:

2.4.3.1.1. Verification of information through third-party sources for security or employment suitability determinations.

2.4.3.1.2. Seeking third-party opinions such as supervisor comments as to job knowledge, duty performance, or other opinion-type evaluations.

2.4.3.1.3. Obtaining information first from the individual may impede rather than advance an investigative inquiry into the actions of the individual.

2.4.3.1.4. Contacting a third party at the request of the individual to furnish certain information, such as exact periods of employment, termination dates, copies of records, or similar information.

2.4.3.1.5. Implementing and enforcing safeguards to ensure protection of personal information.

2.4.4. Ensuring required Privacy Act Statement is provided to individuals when personal information is collected.

2.4.5. In Accordance With the Paper Reduction Act, an Office of Management and Budget (OMB) control number shall be requested whenever information is being collected from ten or more members of the general public. This requirement may apply to Military or Government civilians whenever information is being collected outside their scope of their duty. (see AFI 33-324, The Information Collections and Reports Management Program: Controlling Internal, Public, and Interagency Air Force Information Collections)

2.5. Privacy Act Statements. (T-0)

2.5.1. Whenever an individual is requested to provide personal information that will be maintained in a SOR or collected on an official AF Form, the individual shall be provided the authority, purpose, routine use(s), whether disclosure of the information is voluntary or not; and the applicable SORN. This is known as a Privacy Act Statement (PAS).

2.5.1.1. Authority: the legal authority that authorizes the solicitation of the personal information.

2.5.1.2. Purpose: the principal purpose or purposes for which the information is intended to be used.

2.5.1.3. Routine Uses: who will the personal information be shared with on a routine basis outside the DoD.

2.5.1.4. Disclosure: Voluntary or Mandatory. (Use mandatory only when disclosure is required by law and the individual will be penalized for not providing information. All mandatory disclosure requirements must first be reviewed by the servicing legal office). Include any consequences of nondisclosure in nonthreatening language.

2.5.1.5. AF SORN(s), are searchable by number and title, and are available at: http://dpclo.defense.gov/Privacy/SORNs.aspx (If applicable)

2.5.2. Privacy Act Advisory Statements in Publications. Include a Privacy Act Advisory Statement in each AF publication that requires collecting or keeping personal information in a SOR. Also include a statement when publications direct collection from the individual of any part or form of the Social Security Number (SSN). The statement shall refer to the legal authority for collecting the information and SORN number and title as follows: "This Instruction requires the collection and or maintenance of information protected by the Privacy Act of 1974 authorized by [set forth the legal authority such as the federal statute, executive order, and regulation]. The applicable SORN(s) [number and title] is (are) available at: http://dpclo.defense.gov/Privacy/SORNs.aspx

2.5.3. Paper or electronic documents and/or materials that contain personal information such as a recall rosters, personnel rosters, lists or spreadsheets shall be marked "FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY" (see DoDM 5200.01, Volume 4, DoD Information Security Program: Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI)) as follows:

2.5.3.1. "The information herein is FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY (FOUO) information which must be protected under the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C 552) and/or the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a). Unauthorized disclosure or misuse of this PERSONAL INFORMATION may result in disciplinary action, criminal and/or civil penalties."

2.5.4. All paper documents and printed materials that contain personal information shall be covered with the AF Form 3227, Privacy Act Cover Sheet or DD Form 2923, Privacy Act Data Cover Sheet when removed from its approved storage area.

2.5.5. The Privacy Act requires agencies to provide safeguards to ensure the security and confidentiality of SOR and to protect individuals against an invasion of personal privacy.

2.5.6. Exercise caution before transmitting personal information via e-mail to ensure the message is adequately safeguarded. Some information may be so sensitive and personal that e-mail may not be the appropriate means of transmitting. (see DoDI 8500.01, Cybersecurity, ECCT-1 (Encryption for Confidentiality (Data at Transmit)).

2.5.7. When transmitting personal information over e-mail, encrypt and add "For Official Use Only" ("FOUO") to the beginning of the subject line and apply the following statement at the beginning of the e-mail: "This e-mail contains FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY (FOUO) information which must be protected under the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C 552) and/or the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a). Unauthorized disclosure or misuse of this PERSONAL INFORMATION may result in disciplinary action, criminal and/or civil penalties. Further distribution is prohibited without the approval of the author of this message unless the recipient has a need-to-know in the performance of official duties. If you have received this message in error, please notify the sender and delete all copies of this message."

(Note: Do not indiscriminately apply this statement to all e-mails. Use it only in situations when you are actually transmitting personal information required to be protected For Official Use Only purposes. (see DoDM 5200.01, Volume 4 DoD Information Security Program: Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI)) . The guidance in this paragraph does not apply to appropriate releases of personal information to members of the public via e-mail, such as pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, or with the consent of the subject of the personal information.)

2.6. Publishing System of Records Notices (SORNs). Records that are retrieved by a personal and/or a unique identifier are subject to the Privacy Act of 1974 requirements and are referred to as a system of records (SOR). The AF Privacy Officer will submit SORNs to the Defense Privacy and Civil Liberties Office (DPCLO) to be published in the Federal Register for new, changed or deleted SOR. When published, the public will be allowed 30 days to comment. Collection of this information is not authorized until the SORN is final, including during this 30 day review period. If comments are received that result in a contrary determination, this could further delay the time until a final SORN is published and collection may occur. Any collection conducted prior to finalizing the SORN is an illegal collection and can result in civil penalties under the Privacy Act Of 1974 5 U.S.C. § 552a as amended, (i)(1) Criminal Penalties.

2.6.1. When is a SORN required? A SORN is required when personal information is maintained on an individual and is regularly retrieved by a name, number, symbol, or other identifying particular (i.e. data) assigned to the individual. The Privacy Act requires submission of new or significantly changed SORNs to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and both houses of Congress before publication in the Federal Register. This applies when:

2.6.1.1. Starting a new system. (Add).

2.6.1.1.1. Preamble.

2.6.1.1.2. Narrative.

2.6.1.1.3. Final SORN write up.

2.6.1.2. Instituting significant changes to an existing system. (Alter).

2.6.1.2.1. Preamble.

2.6.1.2.2. Narrative.

2.6.1.2.3. Changes.

2.6.1.2.4. Final write-up with changes.

2.6.1.3. Minor changes to an existing system. (Admin).

2.6.1.3.1. Changes.

2.6.1.3.2. Final write-up with changes.

2.6.2. Other Systems. National Security SORs require a SORN. While some or many of these systems may be classified, the SORN is written in an unclassified manner describing the nature of the collection of PII. (see DoD 5400.11-R, for the use and establishment of exemptions that may apply to these systems).

2.6.3. Adopting Existing SORN. A new or existing SOR may be incorporated into an existing SORN published in the Federal Register:

2.6.3.1. First, research current SORNs, including those that cover systems of records government-wide and DoD-wide on the Defense Privacy Notices website at http://dpclo.defense.gov/Privacy/SORNs.aspx for one that matches well with the new SOR at all points, i.e., Category of Individuals Covered, Category of Records, Authority, Purposes, Routine Uses, Policies, etc.

2.6.3.2. Second, if necessary, contact the current SORN owner through the POC information on the SORN to discuss altering or amending their SORN to include the new AF SOR and POC information.

2.6.3.3. Provide the system owner the altered or amended SORN for their review and processing.

2.6.4. Updating SORNs. Examples for Adding, Altering, Amending, and Deleting a SORN are available on the AF Information Access SharePoint and the AF Privacy Website.

2.6.5. Submitting SORNs for Publication in the Federal Register. The PM must submit the proposed SORN through their MAJCOM/FOA/DRU Privacy Manager at a minimum of 120 days before the planned implementation date of a new SOR or a change to an existing SOR subject to this Instruction. The Privacy Manager shall review for accuracy and completeness and send electronically to the AF Privacy Office usaf.pentagon.saf-cio-a6.mbx.af-privacy@mail.mil. The AF Privacy Office shall review and forward to DPCLO for review and publishing in the Federal Register, as appropriate. (T-1)

2.6.6. Requirement for periodic review of published SORNs. PMs use the Air Force Biennial SORN Accuracy Review Checklist (Attachment 13) to document the validity, accuracy, relevance, timeliness and necessity of their published SORNs, coinciding with Appendix I to OMB Circular A-130, (Federal Agency Responsibilities for Maintaining Records about Individuals). PMs review and submit any changes through the process described in this chapter and promptly update appropriate answers to EITDR questions.

2.6.7. Deletion of SORNs. If your IT system is being decommissioned or closed and has a published SORN that is no longer required, comply with DoD 5400.11-R, Department of Defense Privacy Program, subpar C6.5.3., Deletion of System of Records Notices and submit appropriate amendment or deletion request to the AF Privacy Office, usaf.pentagon.saf-cio-a6.mbx.af-privacy@mail.mil to be forwarded to DPCLO to have the SORN deleted from the Federal Register.

2.7. Privacy Act Records Request. Persons or their designated representatives may ask for a copy of their records maintained in a SOR. Requesters need not state why they want access to their records. Personnel that receive requests must verify the identity of the requester to avoid unauthorized disclosures. How their identity is verified will depend on the sensitivity of the requested records. Identity can be verified in a number of ways, to include visually, personal knowledge of the requester, a signed letter, or a request via telephone as appropriate or e-mail, a notarized statement, or an unsworn statement. An unsworn declaration or notarized statement should be obtained in the following format:

2.7.1. Requesting Access to Records in a SOR.

2.7.1.1. Contents of Request. "I declare under penalty of perjury (if outside the United States, add "under the laws of the United States of America") that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on (date)(Signature)."

2.7.1.1.1. Description of Records. The requester must adequately describe the records they want. The requester is not required to name a SOR, but they should at least name a type of record or functional area. For requests that ask for "all records about me," the requester should be asked for more information about the types of records they are seeking and informed as to how their input can help the AF respond as quickly as possible. If the requester needs help identifying types of systems or records, provide them information to review the government-wide systems of records published in the Federal Register and AF specific SORNs published at http://dpclo.defense.gov/Privacy/SORNs.aspx. Ensure they understand that identifying the relevant SORN(s) will make the AF review more efficient. If the requester is truly requesting all records pertaining to themselves or an individual, inform the requester they must make a FOIA request.

2.7.1.1.2. Provide Verification of Identity.

2.7.1.2. Use of a Government Resource to Make a Request is prohibited.

2.7.2. Processing a Request for Access to Records in a SOR. Immediately consult the local Privacy Manager, if necessary, to ensure timely response to the request. When individuals request information about themselves, they are not required to cite either the Privacy Act or Freedom of Information Act (FOIA). The individual who processes the request will apply the Privacy Act when records are contained in a SOR and will apply the FOIA to all other records.

2.7.2.1. Acknowledge Request. As a good practice SOR owner should send the requester an acknowledgement letter within 10 workdays informing them of an approximate completion date.

2.7.2.2. Required Response. As a good practice SOR owner should provide a copy of the record(s) to the requester within 20 workdays of receiving the request. If the SOR has an exemption, inform the requestor of those exemptions in a format the requester can understand. If the system is exempt from disclosure under the Privacy Act, follow the procedures addressed in paragraph 2.11.

2.7.3. Denying or Limiting Access. When information protected under the Privacy Act may not be released under the Privacy Act, the request must be processed under the FOIA. If any part of the record is denied under the FOIA, the procedures in DoD 5400.7-R_AFMAN 33-302, Freedom of Information Act Program, are followed. For Privacy Act denials also processed under the FOIA (Note: This should be an extremely rare circumstance), send a copy of the request, the record copy, and why access has been denied (include the applicable exemption) to the denial authority through the legal office and the Privacy Office. Judge Advocate (JA) office shall include a written legal opinion. The legal opinion shall not merely state that the decision is "legally sufficient," but shall provide factual details and an analysis of the law and applicable regulations. The Privacy Manager reviews the file, and makes a recommendation to the denial authority. The denial authority sends the requester a letter with the decision. If the denial authority grants access, release the record copy. If the denial authority refuses access, tell the requester why and explain pertinent appeal rights.

2.7.3.1. Before a request for access to a Privacy Act system of record from the subject is denied that was not processed under the FOIA, the SOR owner shall ensure that:

2.7.3.1.1. The system has an exemption published in the Federal Register as a final rule.

2.7.3.1.2. The exemption covers each document. All parts of a system are not automatically exempt.

2.7.3.1.3. The FOIA does not require release of any part of the record.

2.7.3.1.4. Nonexempt parts are segregated.

2.7.4. Third Party Information in a SOR. A first party requester is not entitled to receive information that does not directly pertain to him or her that is contained in their record; for example, the home address or SSN of a third party that is contained in their system of record solely for ease of identification of the third party. Servicing legal offices should be consulted prior to the release of a third party's sensitive personal information to a first party requester that is contained in the first party requester's SOR.

2.8. Amending a Privacy Act Record.

2.8.1. Amendment Reasons. Individuals may ask to have their personal information in a SOR amended to make such information accurate, timely, relevant, and complete. System managers shall routinely correct a record if the requester can show that it is factually incorrect (e.g., date of birth is wrong).

2.8.2. Responding to Amendment Requests.

2.8.2.1. The individual may request simple corrections orally. Requests for complicated and detailed corrections must be in writing to ensure clarity.

2.8.2.2. After verifying the identity of the requester, the receiving agency shall make the change if appropriate, notify all known recipients of the record, and inform the affected individual.

2.8.2.3. Acknowledge requests within 10 workdays of receipt. Give an expected completion date unless the change is completed within that time. Final decisions must, unless extended by the appropriate authority, take no longer than 30 workdays after the date of receipt.

2.9. Approving or Denying a Record to be Amended. The AF does not usually amend a record when the change is based on opinion, interpretation, or subjective official judgment. Determination not to amend such records constitutes a denial, and the requester may:

2.9.1. If the SOR owner decides not to amend the record then a copy of the request, the record, and the recommended denial reasons shall be sent to their legal and the Privacy Office. Legal office shall include a written legal opinion. The legal opinion shall not merely state that the decision is "legally sufficient," but will provide factual details and an analysis of the law and applicable regulations.

2.9.2. The SOR owner shall send the requester a letter with the decision.

2.9.3. If the SOR owner denies to amend the records, the requester may file a concise statement of disagreement with the Air Force Privacy Officer.

2.10. Contents of Privacy Act Processing Case Files. Copies of disputed records shall not be kept in Privacy Act Processing Case files. Disputed records shall be filed under their appropriate series. Use the Privacy Act Processing Case Files solely for statistics and to process requests. Such case files shall not be used to make any kind of determination about an individual. The reasons for untimely responses shall be documented in the Privacy Act Processing Case Files and may include the following:

2.10.1. Requests from and replies to individuals on whether a SOR contains records about them.

2.10.2. Requests for access or amendment.

2.10.3. Approvals, denials, appeals, and final review actions.

2.11. First Party Appeal Process For Denial to Access or Amendment of a Privacy Act Record.

2.11.1. Appeals Procedures. Individuals who receive a denial to their access or amendment request may request a denial review (appeal) within 60 calendar days of the date of the denial letter.

2.11.2. The SOR owner shall promptly send a complete appeal package to the Air Force Privacy Officer. The package must include the following: (T-0)

2.11.2.1. The original appeal letter;

2.11.2.2. The initial request;

2.11.2.3. The initial denial;

2.11.2.4. A copy of the record;

2.11.2.5. Any internal records or coordination actions relating to the denial and the denial authority's comments on the appellant's arguments and the legal reviews.

2.11.3. If the SOR owner reverses their decision on an earlier denial and grants access or amendment, notify the requester immediately.

2.11.4. The SOR owner may include a brief summary of the reasons for not amending the record.

2.11.5. The Air Force Privacy Officer will review the denial and provide a final recommendation to the SOR owner along with providing the requester with the final AF decision and explanation of judicial review rights.

2.11.6. The records will clearly show that a statement of disagreement is filed with the record or separately, if applicable.

2.11.7. The disputed part of the record must show that the requester filed a statement of disagreement.

2.11.8. Give copies of the statement of disagreement to the record's previous recipients. Inform subsequent record users about the dispute and give them a copy of the statement with the record.

2.12. Disclosing Information.

2.12.1. In all cases, use the following guidelines to decide whether to release information without consent:

2.12.1.1. Would the subject have a reasonable expectation of privacy in the information requested?

2.12.1.2. Is disclosing the information in the public interest? The public interest relates to how the AF carries out its statutory and regulatory duties.

2.12.1.3. Balance the public interest against the individual's privacy interest. Do not consider the requester's purpose, circumstances, or proposed use.

2.12.2. Rules for Releasing personal information without Consent of the Subject. The Privacy Act prohibits disclosure of personal information within a SOR without the prior written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains. There are twelve exceptions to the "no disclosure without consent" rule. (see http://www.privacy.af.mil/exceptions/index.asp)

2.12.3. Disclosing the Medical Records of Minors. AF personnel may disclose the medical records of minors to their parents or legal guardians in conjunction with applicable Federal laws and guidelines. The laws of each state define the age of majority and/or circumstances under which minors are consider emancipated. Consult with the servicing legal office's medical liaison and Military Treatment Facility (MTF) for guidance in regard to the age of majority, especially in overseas locations.

2.12.4. Disclosure Accountings. System managers must keep an accurate record of all disclosures made from any SOR except disclosures to DoD personnel for a valid official use or disclosures under the FOIA. System managers may use AF Form 771, Accounting of Disclosures. Retain disclosure accountings for 5 years after the disclosure, or for the life of the record, whichever is longer.

2.12.4.1. System managers shall file the Accounting of Disclosure record and give it to the data subject on request, send corrected or disputed information to previous record recipients, explain any disclosures, and provide an audit trail for reviews. Include in each accounting: (T-0)

2.12.4.1.1. Release date.

2.12.4.1.2. Description of information.

2.12.4.1.3. Reason for release.

2.12.4.1.4. Name and address of recipient.

2.12.4.1.5. Some exempt systems let you withhold the accounting record from the subject.

2.12.4.1.6. Withhold information about disclosure accountings for law enforcement purposes at the law enforcement agency's request.

2.13. Computer Matching. Computer matching programs electronically compare records from two or more automated systems, one from the DoD and the other from a Federal agency, or a state or local government in other to make a decision that affects an individual's rights, benefits and/or privileges.

2.13.1. A system manager proposing a match that could result in an adverse action against a Federal employee must meet the following requirements of the Privacy Act:

2.13.1.1. Prepare a written agreement between participants;

2.13.1.2. Secure approval of the Defense Data Integrity Board;

2.13.1.3. Publish a matching notice in the Federal Register before matching begins;

2.13.1.4. Ensure full investigation and due process; and

2.13.1.5. Act on the information, as necessary.

2.13.2. The Privacy Act applies to matching programs that use records from Federal personnel or payroll systems and Federal benefit programs where matching:

2.13.2.1. Determines Federal benefit eligibility;

2.13.2.2. Checks on compliance with benefit program requirements; or

2.13.2.3. Recovers improper payments or delinquent debts from current or former beneficiaries.

2.13.3. Matches used for statistics, pilot programs, law enforcement, tax administration, routine administration, background checks and foreign counterintelligence, and internal matching that will not cause any adverse action are exempt from Privacy Act matching requirements.

2.13.4. Any activity that expects to participate in a matching program must contact the AF Privacy Officer immediately. System managers must prepare a Computer System Matching Agreement notice for publication in the Federal Register, which explains the routine uses that permit the processing of personal information to the AF Privacy Officer. Allow 180 days for processing requests for a new matching program.

2.13.5. Individuals must receive notice when they are asked to provide personal information that will be used in a matching program as a routine use. The most appropriate method of providing notice is to include the PAS on the form used when an individual applies for benefits. When the individual completes and submits the form and has been provided adequate notice, they are consenting to the routine uses associated with the notice. Coordinate appropriate statements with the MAJCOM/FOA/DRU Privacy Manager and AF Privacy Officer.

2.14. Privacy Act Exemptions.

2.14.1. Exemption Types. This section contains the most current exemptions that have been published as final rules for the listed SOR as of the date of this Instruction. The ISO should ensure that a more recent final rule has not been published. There are two types of exemptions from release or disclosure permitted by Title 5, USC 552a:

2.14.1.1. A General exemption authorizes the exemption of a SOR from most parts of the Privacy Act.

2.14.1.2. A Specific exemption authorizes the exemption of a SOR from only a few parts of the Privacy Act.

2.14.2. Authorizing Exemptions. Denial authorities may withhold release or disclosure of records to the first party requesters using Privacy Act exemptions only when an exemption for the SOR has been published in the Federal Register as a final rule. (see http://dpclo.defense.gov/Privacy/SORNs.aspx ; exemptions are noted in the right column.)

2.14.3. Requesting an Exemption. An ISO who believes that a system requires an exemption from some or all of the requirements of the Privacy Act shall send a request through the Wing Privacy Office, the HAF/MAJCOM/FOA/DRU Privacy Office, and to AF Privacy Office. Final approval is granted by DPCLO. The request will detail the reasons why the exemption applies, the section of the Act that allows the exemption, and the specific subsections of the Privacy Act from which the system is to be exempted, with justification for each subsection.

2.14.4. Exemptions. Exemptions permissible under Title 5 Privacy Act are searchable at http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/USCODE-2012-title5/pdf/USCODE-2012-title5-partI-chap5-subchapII-sec552a.pdf

2.14.4.1. The (j)(2) exemption. Applies to investigative records created and maintained by law-enforcement activities whose principal function is criminal law enforcement.

2.14.4.2. The (k)(1) exemption. Applies to information specifically authorized to be classified according to DoDM 5200.01, Volume 4, DoD Information Security Program: Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI)).

2.14.4.3. The (k)(2) exemption. Applies to investigatory information compiled for law-enforcement purposes by non-law enforcement activities and which is not within the scope of the (j)(2) exemption. However, the AF must allow an individual access to any record that is used to deny rights, privileges or benefits to which he or she would otherwise be entitled by Federal law or for which he or she would otherwise be eligible as a result of the maintenance of the information (unless doing so would reveal a confidential source).

2.14.4.4. The (k)(3) exemption. Applies to records maintained in connection with providing protective services to the President and other individuals under Title 18; Crimes and Criminal Procedure, USC, section 3056; Powers, authorities, and duties of United States Secret Service.

2.14.4.5. The (k)(4) exemption. Applies to records maintained solely for statistical research or program evaluation purposes and which are not used to make decisions on the rights, benefits, or entitlement of an individual except for census records which may be disclosed under Title 13, CENSUS, U.S.C., Section 8; Authenticated transcripts or copies of certain returns; other data; restriction on use; disposition of fees received.

2.14.4.6. The (k)(5) exemption. Applies to investigatory material compiled solely for the purpose of determining suitability, eligibility, or qualifications for U.S. civilian employment, military service, U.S. contracts, or access to classified information, but only to the extent such material would reveal the identity of a confidential source. This provision allows protection of confidential sources used in background investigations, employment inquiries, and similar inquiries that are for personnel screening to determine suitability, eligibility, or qualifications.

2.14.4.7. The (k)(6) exemption. Applies to testing or examination material used solely to determine individual qualifications for appointment or promotion in the Federal or military service, if the disclosure would compromise the objectivity or fairness of the test or examination process.

2.14.4.8. The (k)(7) exemption. Applies to evaluation material used to determine potential for promotion in the Military Services, but only to the extent that the disclosure of such material would reveal the identity of a confidential source.

2.15. The Federal Records Act, 44 U. S.C. § 3301. Defines a federal government record as "all books, papers, maps, photographs, machine readable materials, or other documentary materials, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received by an agency of the United States Government under Federal law or in connection with the transaction of public business and preserved or appropriate for preservation by that agency or its legitimate successor as evidence of the organization, functions, guidance, decisions, procedures, operations, or other activities of the Government or because of the informational value of data in them."

Chapter 3

E-GOVERNMENT ACT

3.1. Overview of the E-Government Act of 2002, 44 U. S.C. 3601. Congress finds the following:

3.1.1.1. The use of computers and the Internet is rapidly transforming societal interactions and the relationships among citizens, private businesses, and the Government.

3.1.1.2. The Federal Government has had uneven success in applying advances in information technology to enhance governmental functions and services, achieve more efficient performance, increase access to Government information, and increase citizen participation in Government.

3.1.1.3. Most Internet-based services of the Federal Government are developed and presented separately, according to the jurisdictional boundaries of an individual department or agency, rather than being integrated cooperatively according to function or topic.

3.1.1.4. Internet-based Government services involving interagency cooperation are especially difficult to develop and promote, in part because of a lack of sufficient funding mechanisms to support such interagency cooperation.

3.1.1.5. Electronic Government has its impact through improved Government performance and outcomes within and across agencies.

3.1.1.6. Electronic Government is a critical element in the management of Government, to be implemented as part of a management framework that also addresses finance, procurement, human capital, and other challenges to improve the performance of Government.

3.1.1.7. To take full advantage of the improved Government performance that can be achieved through the use of Internet based technology requires strong leadership, better organization, improved interagency collaboration, and more focused oversight of agency compliance with statutes related to information resource management.

3.2. The Purposes of the E-Government Act are the Following:

3.2.1. To provide effective leadership of Federal Government efforts to develop and promote electronic Government services and processes by establishing an Administrator of a new Office of Electronic Government within the Office of Management and Budget.

3.2.2. To promote use of the Internet and other information technologies to provide increased opportunities for citizen participation in Government.

3.2.3. 3.3. Privacy Impact Assessments (PIA).

3.3.1. Evaluate Information Systems Risk Management Framework. Information System Owners (ISO), Portfolio Managers (PfMs), Program Managers (PM), and Information Assurance Managers (IAM) shall address risks assessment on Personally Identifiable Information (PII) in an IT system and plan the integration of privacy protections with appropriate Information Assurance (IA) controls into the development life cycle of an information system. A Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA) shall be completed in accordance with DoDI 5400.16, DoD Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA) Guidance. (T-0)

3.3.2. What is a PIA? The PIA is an analysis of how PII (which is personal information when stored in a SOR) is collected and handled in an IT system:

3.3.2.1. To ensure PII handling conforms to applicable legal, regulatory, and policy requirements regarding privacy;

3.3.2.2. To determine the risks to an individual and the effects of collecting, maintaining and disseminating PII in an electronic information system, and;

3.3.2.3. To examine and evaluate protections and alternative processes for handling PII information to mitigate potential privacy risks.

3.3.2.4. The depth and content of the PIA should be thorough and appropriate for the nature of the information to be collected and the size and complexity of the information technology system.

3.3.2.5. The PIA identifies the physical, technical, and administrative controls that are needed to protect PII. Information Assurance controls are identified in DoDI 8500.01, Cybersecurity. Information Assurance controls will be implemented and tested before deployment or release of a system to mitigate specific risks. Additionally, system owners will determine whether a SORN exists, needs to be created, and/or needs to be amended.

3.3.3. When must a PIA be conducted?

3.3.3.1. The E-Government Act of 2002 and DoDI 5400.16 require PIAs to be conducted before developing or procuring IT systems or projects that collect, maintain, or disseminate information in identifiable form from or about individuals as defined in DoD 5400.11-R.

3.3.3.2. PIAs are required to be performed, approved and/or updated as necessary when a system change exposes a new privacy risk for which an Information Assurance control must be identified and tested before re-deployment or re-release of the system.

3.3.3.3. At the discretion of the commander.

3.3.4. When a PIA must be submitted. PIAs are submitted 120 days from the scheduled operational or expiration date of the Authorization to Operate (ATO) or Interim Authorization to Operate (IATO) on all new and existing systems. This applies to IT systems whenever PII is collected, maintained, used or disseminated for the purpose, other than the user table, in electronic form about members of the public, Federal personnel, contractors or foreign nationals employed at U.S. military facilities internationally.

3.3.5. When a PIA is not required.

3.3.5.1. When Personally Identifiable Information (PII) is not being maintained, collected, stored, used, or disseminated;

3.3.5.2. An IT system is an approved National Security System (NSS). Administrative and personnel systems that do not meet one or more of the NSS conditions are not exempt from the PIA requirement.

3.3.6. Who conducts the PIA? The ISO shall conduct a PIA in conjunction with the system PM, IAM and Privacy Manager/Monitor. (T-0)

3.3.7. Medical IT systems that are Defense Health Agency (DHA) funded or in the AF line-funded portfolio and managed by Air Force Medical Service (AFMS) assets, shall route PIAs through the DHA CIO office for appropriate management, signatures, and oversight.

3.3.8. All DoD Medical Department IT systems purchased with DHA funds must ONLY be reported to the DoD Information Technology Portfolio Repository (DITPR) via the component Defense Health Agency (DHA).

3.3.9. Format and Digital Signatures. PIAs shall be completed on DD Form 2930, Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA), as an unsecured fillable PDF which requires digital signatures as follows, except for medical DHP funded systems.(T-0)

3.3.9.1. Privacy Impact Assessments processing procedure.

3.3.9.1.1. The system Program Manager will digitally sign and forward the signed PIA to their perspective Information System Security Manager (ISSM);

3.3.9.1.2. ISSMs digitally sign and forward the signed PIA to their Base Privacy Manager. Base Privacy Managers digitally sign and coordinate with the applicable records management office to ensure appropriate lifecycle management of any records created are maintained, used, preserved, and disposed of in accordance with DoD Instruction 5015.02 (Reference (i)) and National Archives and Records Administration approved records schedules. Records managers annotate in section 3 part f of the DD

2930, "Records maintenance is consistent with NARA records schedule". Records managers return the PIA to the PM. PMs forward the signed PIA for review to their respective MAJCOM Privacy Office. After MAJCOM review, forward the PIA to the Senior Information Security Officer (SISO) workflow e-mail usaf.pentagon.saf-cio-a6.mbx.a6ss-workflow@mail.mil.

3.3.9.1.3. The Senior Information Security Officer (SISO) or designee shall digitally sign and return the signed PIA to the AF Privacy Officer workflow e-mail usaf.pentagon.saf-cio-a6.mbx.af-privacy@mail.mil.

3.3.9.1.4. The AF Privacy Officer shall digitally sign and forward the signed PIA to the AF CIO or representative.

3.3.9.1.5. The AF CIO or representative shall digitally sign and return PIA to the AF Privacy Officer.

3.3.10. Submitting Approved PIAs. AF Privacy maintains a copy of all approved PIAs on the AF Privacy public access website http://www.privacy.af.mil/pia/index.asp. An electronic copy will be forwarded by the AF Privacy Officer to the Department of Defense, Chief Information Officer (DOD CIO).

3.3.11. Periodic Reviews and Updates Cycle of PIAs. PMs review and update PIAs IAW DoDI 5400.16, 14 July 2015, DoD Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA) Guidance.

Chapter 5

SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER (SSN) REDUCTION PLAN

5.1. Overview. The stated intention of the Social Security Reduction Plan is to reduce or eliminate the use of SSN in DoD and AF systems of records, IT systems and forms IAW DoDI 1000.30, Reduction of Social Security Number (SSN) Use Within DoD. The Functional office that owns the record for which SSNs are required to be collected is the Office of Primary Responsibility (OPR) for submitting a SSN Justification memorandum with respect to the collection of SSNs for those records. Records Professional, Privacy Manager, and Forms manager will assist to ensure compliance with the SSN reduction plan requirements. The use of the SSN shall be limited to transactions that specifically require the presentation of the SSN to meet a statutory or regulatory requirement. Most applications that require the SSN for specific transactions do not require its use for every transaction. For example, systems that link to financial institutions may need the SSN for initial interactions, but thereafter use an account number or some other form of identification or authentication. As such there is no need to use the SSN for individuals to authenticate themselves as part of every transaction. DoDI 1000.30, Reduction of Social Security Number (SSN) Use Within DoD, is in effect and establishes the following:

5.1.1. Acceptable Uses. Use of the SSN includes the SSN in any form, including, but not limited to truncated, masked, partially masked, encrypted, or disguised SSN. The acceptable uses of the SSN are those that are provided for by law, require interoperability with organizations beyond the DoD, or are required by operational necessities. Such operational necessities may be the result of the inability to alter systems, processes, or forms due to cost or unacceptable levels of risk. Those systems, processes, or forms that claim "operational necessity" shall be closely scrutinized. Ease of use and unwillingness to change are not acceptable justifications for continuing to collect SSNs.

5.1.2. Documenting Acceptable Uses of SSN and other PII specifically. The authorization for use of PII is governed through DoD 5400.11-R. The method by which SSN use is documented shall be consistent with existing Privacy Program requirements for forms, processes, IT systems, and systems of records, to include any locally created applications.

5.1.3. In addition to the documentation required for the use of PII in the PIA and/or SORN, the use of the SSN in any form as part of any collection, transfer, or retention, including locally created user applications, must be specifically documented and justified. Documentation of the SSN justification shall be retained and available upon request.

5.2. The Specific Requirement for Use of the SSN.

5.2.1. Forms that collect SSN must have a completed AF Form 673 and a justification memorandum stating the justification for use of the SSN that is addressed to and approved by AF Privacy Officer. Submit items to appropriate Forms Manager IAW AFI 33-360, Publications and Forms Management.

5.2.2. A senior official (flag officer or SES equivalent) shall sign the SSN Justification Memorandum stating the justification for use of the SSN. It is unacceptable to collect, retain, use or transfer SSN without an approved justification.

5.2.3. The SSN Justification Memo that approves collection of SSN in an IT System shall be forwarded with the PIA and/or SORN to the AF Privacy Officer. The justification memo will be addressed to Defense Privacy Officer for approval/disapproval. (see Attachment 8).

5.2.4. The DPCLO reviews SSN justifications for IT systems as an adjunct to the biennial PII review process. When justification for SSN use is rejected, the action officer will prepare a plan, to include milestones and a timeline, for the elimination of SSN usage.

5.2.5. Periodic Review of SSN Use and Justification. SSN use and justification memo review is a responsibility under the biennial review process for all forms. IT systems Justification memos shall be reviewed in conjunction with the FISMA Annual review.

5.2.6. Requesting the Social Security Number (SSN). When requesting an individual's SSN always provide a Privacy Act Statement, Privacy Statement or Privacy Advisory, as applicable.

5.3. Alternative Means of Identifying Records: When law, executive order, or regulation does not require disclosing the SSN or if the SOR was created after January 1, 1975, a SSN may be requested, but the individual is not required to disclose it. If the individual refuses to provide their information, use alternative means of identifying records. Executive Order (E.O.) 9397, Numbering System for Federal Accounts Relating to Individual Persons, November 22, 1943, was amended by E.O. 13478, Amendments to Executive Order 9397 Relating to Federal Agency Use of Social Security Numbers, November 18, 2008, which emphasizes the need to protect PII and deletes the mandatory requirement to collecting SSNs. E.O. 9397 (SSN), as amended (E.O. 13478) shall be referenced when cited in a PAS, Privacy Statement, Privacy Advisory, PIA and SORN whenever a SSN is collected, used, stored, or disseminated for acceptable uses within AF IT systems, on AF Forms, or in other physical media systems of records. IT systems, AF Forms, and AF records OPRs should also consult DoDI 1000.30, Reduction of Social Security Number (SSN) Use Within DoD, DoD enclosure 2, paragraph 2, Acceptable Uses. Contact the OPR's organizational Privacy Office for assistance.

5.4. Protection of SSN. SSNs are personal and unique to each individual. The SSN in any form, including, but not limited to truncated (last 4 or 5), masked, partially masked, encrypted, or disguised SSN will be Protected as High Impact PII and marked FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY (FOUO). Within DoD, do not disclose a person's SSN to another person without an official need to know or consent of the individual. Release of SSNs outside of the DoD are not releasable without the person's consent or unless authorized under one of the twelve exceptions to the Privacy Act (see paragraph 1.16.4.).

5.5. Reporting Results of Social Security Number Reduction.

5.5.1. New Departmental Forms. The AF Departmental Forms Management Officer shall maintain a database to produce an annual report every July 1st. This report shall be an input into the Privacy Act section of the annual FISMA Report as required by subchapter III, chapter 35 of title 44, United States Code. The annual report shall contain the following elements:

5.5.1.1. Number of forms reviewed.

5.5.1.2. Number of forms requesting SSNs.

5.5.1.3. Number of SSN justifications accepted and rejected.

5.5.1.4. Examples of forms where SSNs were not allowed.

5.5.1.5. Examples of SSN masking or truncation.

5.5.1.6. For new forms issued below the departmental level (HAF/MAJCOM/FOA/DRU, Wing, etc), no database shall be required as set forth in paragraph 4.5.1.

5.5.1.7. Existing Departmental Forms. The AF Departmental Forms Management Officer shall report annually on July 1st the results of the AF Forms reviews and submit a report to the AF Privacy Officer. This report shall include the following elements: (T1)

5.5.1.7.1. Total number of forms in the database.

5.5.1.7.2. Number of forms reviewed.

5.5.1.7.3. Number of forms containing SSNs.

5.5.1.7.4. Number of forms where justifications were questioned.

5.5.1.7.5. Number of SSN justifications accepted and rejected.

5.5.1.7.6. Examples of forms where SSNs were not allowed.

5.5.1.7.7. Examples of SSN masking or truncation.

5.5.1.8. For existing forms issued yellow departmental level (HAF/MAJCOM/FOA/DRU, Wing, etc.), no reports are required at command and or base levels, with the exception of sharing best practices of specific examples where SSNs were eliminated or better masked, or for metrics collection at the AF level.

Chapter 6

PROTECTING RECORDS

6.1. Protecting Records. Protecting privacy information is the responsibility of every federal employee, military member, and contractor who handles SOR or PII contained in AF records.

6.2. Protecting Personal information or PII Maintained in an Electronic System. It is AF policy that personal information or PII collected, maintained, and stored in an electronic system shall be evaluated by the ISO for impact of loss or unauthorized disclosure and protected accordingly. Ensure coordination is accomplished between IT system PMs, IAMs and Privacy Manager. (IAW AFI 33-200, Information Assurance (IA) Management and DoDI 5400.16, DoD Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA) Guidance).

6.2.1. Assigning PII High, Moderate or Low Impact Security Category (SC). All electronic systems of records shall be assigned a High or Moderate PII impact security category according to the definitions established in this Instruction.

6.2.2. Protect PII of High or Moderate impact security category at a Confidentiality Level of Sensitive or higher as established in DoDI 8500.01, Cybersecurity, unless specifically cleared for public release (e.g., the name and contact information for selected senior officials or personnel whose duties require regular contact with the public).

6.2.2.1. As early as possible in the life cycle of IT-dependent programs, information owners shall establish the mission assurance category, security classification, sensitivity, and need-to-know of the information.

6.2.2.2. Information system owners shall establish the permissible uses of information and associated mission or business rules of use, and ensure that the distinction is clear to all personnel between information that is operationally sensitive and information that can be made available to the public.

6.2.2.3. Mission assurance category establish the requirements for availability and integrity, and security classification, sensitivity, and need-to-know establish confidentiality requirements.

6.2.2.4. Enclosure 4 of DoDI 8500.01, Cybersecurity, provides detailed lists of the IA Controls necessary to achieve the baseline levels of availability, integrity, and confidentiality for mission assurance category and classification. Any Mission Assurance Category is acceptable for DoD and AF information systems processing PII.

6.2.2.5. Electronic PII records that are assigned a Moderate or High Impact Category shall be protected as follows:

6.2.2.5.1. Such records shall not be routinely processed or stored on portable computing devices or removable electronic media without written approval of the Information Assurance Manager (IAM). (Note: IAM approval is not required in order to remove such records contained on a government laptop computer that is removed from the primary workspace in order to telecommute or travel TDY.)

6.2.2.5.2. Except for compelling operational needs, any portable computing device or removable electronic media that processes or stores High Impact PII electronic records (e.g., containing SSN) shall be restricted to workplaces that minimally satisfy Physical and Environmental Controls for Confidentiality Level Sensitive as established in DoDI 8500.01, Cybersecurity, (hereinafter referred to as "protected workplaces"). (Note: Removal of government laptop computers from primary purposes for telecommuting and TDYs is considered a compelling operational need.)

6.2.3. Electronic Storage Media. Any electronic devices which contain personal information which is removed from its' protected workplaces, including those approved for routine processing, shall:

6.2.3.1. Use an AFVA 33-276, Air Force Privacy Act Label, to assist in identifying information which may be protected under the Privacy Act by placing the label on the covers of removable electronic storage media. (Note: Creation of a Privacy Act label is authorized when approved by functional managers.) AF Form 3227 Privacy Act Cover Sheet or DD Form 2923 Privacy Act Cover Sheet shall be used whenever documents containing personal information are removed from the approved storage area.

6.2.3.2. Require certificate based authentication using a DoD or DoD-approved Public Key Infrastructure (PKI) certificate on approved hardware token to access devices.

6.2.3.3. Implement IA Control PESL-1 (screen lock), with a specified period of inactivity not to exceed 30 minutes (15 minutes or less recommended).

6.2.3.4. PII Data at Rest on Portable Devices. Encrypt all data at rest, i.e., data that is contained on hard drives or other storage media within portable devices as well as all removable media created by or written from the device while outside a protected workplace. If a portable device is incapable of encryption, it cannot be used to store PII. Minimally, the cryptography shall be NIST-certified (i.e., FIPS 140-2 http://csrc.nist.gov/publications/fips/fips140-2/fips1402.pdf). (see DoDI 8500.01, Cybersecurity, ECCR-1 (Encryption for Confidentiality (Data at Rest))

6.2.3.5. Follow direction for transmitting PII or other sensitive information via e-mail IAW paragraph 2.5.6. of this Instruction. (see also DoDI 8500.01, Cybersecurity, ECCT-1 (Encryption for Confidentiality (Data at Transmit)).

6.2.4. PII and Remote Access. Only DoD authorized devices shall be used for remote access. Any remote access, whether for user or privileged system administrator functions, must conform to IA Control EBRU-1 (Remote Access for User Functions), EBRP-1 (Remote Access for Privileged Functions), and ECCT-1 (Enclave and Computing Environment) as established in DoDI 8500.01, Cybersecurity and DoD Memorandum, Department of Defense Guidance on Protecting Personally Identifiable Information (PII):

6.2.4.2. The remote device gaining access shall conform to IA Control Physical and Environmental (PESL- 1 screen lock), with a specified period of inactivity not to exceed 30 minutes (15 minutes or less recommended). (see DoDI 8500.01, Cybersecurity). (T-0)

6.2.4.3. The remote device gaining access shall conform to IA Control Enclave and Computing Environment (ECRC-1, Resource Control). (see DoDI 8500.01, Cybersecurity)

6.2.4.4. Download and local/remote storage of records containing PII is prohibited unless expressly approved by the ISO.

6.3. Risk Based Management. Apply a risk based management approach. Evaluate the effectiveness of additional protections against sensitivity, probability of exposure, risk and cost.

6.3.1. Consider the sensitivity category (Low, Moderate, or High) of the PII and the probability of exposure, risk of disclosure, loss or alteration, when providing physical security measures. (see Attachment 6.)

6.3.2. Information marked For Official Use Only (FOUO) or Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI) must be protected from unauthorized disclosure. Reasonable steps shall be taken both during and after working hours to minimize risk of access by unauthorized personnel. Guidance on marking and physical security requirements for CUI and FOUO are addressed in AFI 31-401, Information Security Program Management and DoDM 5200.01, Volume 4, DoD Information Security Program: Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI)).

6.4. Disposing of Records. Consult a Records Professional before disposing of any records. You may use the following methods to dispose of records protected by the Privacy Act for authorized destruction according to RDS maintained in the AF Records Information Management System (AFRIMS).

6.4.1. Destroy by any reasonable method that prevents loss, theft or compromise during and after destruction such as pulping, macerating, tearing, burning, shredding or otherwise completely destroying the media so that PII is both not readable and is beyond reconstruction. Refer to NIST SP800-88, http://csrc.nist.gov/publications/PubsSPs.html

6.4.2. Degauss or overwrite magnetic media according to established guidelines. DoDM5200.01, Volume 4, *Department of Defense Information Security Program: Controlled*ictect*Unclassified Information (CUI),* and AFI 31-401, Information Security Program Management also governs destruction of FOUO and CUI.

6.4.3. Recycling of material protected under the Privacy Act.

6.4.3.1. When safeguarding information protected under the Privacy Act that can be assured; disposal of such products may be accomplished through the Defense Reutilization and Marketing Office (DRMO) or through contracted recycling providers that manage a base-wide recycling program.

6.4.3.2. Originators of material containing PII must safeguard it until it is transferred to the recycling provider. This transfer does not require a disclosure accounting. (Note: Information protected under the Privacy Act shall not be placed in unattended recycle or trash bins.)

Terms

Access—Allowing individuals to review or receive copies of government records that contain personally identifiable information about them.

Amendment—The process of adding, deleting, or changing information in a SOR to make the data accurate, relevant, timely, or complete.

Alteration—A significant increase or change in the number or type of individuals about whom records are maintained. Increases in numbers of individuals due to normal growth are not considered alterations unless they truly alter the character and purpose of the system. Increases that change significantly the scope of population covered (for example, expansion of a SOR covering a single command's enlisted personnel to include all of the Component's enlisted personnel would be considered an alteration). A reduction in the number of individuals covered is not an alteration, but only an amendment. Changes that add new categories of individuals to system coverage require a change to the "Categories of individuals covered by the system" caption of the notice and may require changes to the "Purpose(s)" caption.

Biometric—Physiological and/or behavioral characteristics that are measurable and can be used to verify the identity of an individual.

Breach—A loss of control, compromise, unauthorized disclosure, unauthorized acquisition, unauthorized access, or any similar term referring to situations where persons other than authorized users and for an other than authorized purpose have access or potential access to PII, whether physical or electronic.

Civil Liberties—Fundamental rights and freedoms protected by the Constitution of the United States.

Cookie—Data created by a Web server that is stored on a user's computer either temporarily for that session only or permanently on the hard disk (persistent cookie). It provides a way for the Website to identify users and keep track of their preferences. It is commonly used to "maintain the state" of the session. A third-party cookie either originates on or is sent to a Web site different from the one you are currently viewing.

Defense Data Integrity Board—Composed of representatives from DoD components and services who oversee, coordinate, and approves DoD computer matching programs covered by the Act.

Denial Authority—The individuals with authority to deny requests for access or amendment of records under the Privacy Act.

Disclosure—The transfer of any personally identifiable information from a SOR by any means of communication (such as oral, written, electronic, mechanical, or actual review) to any person, private entity, or Government Agency, other than the subject of the record, the subject's designated agent, or the subject's legal guardian.

Federal Agency—A department, independent agency, commission, or establishment of the Executive Branch.

For Official Use Only (FOUO)—Is a designation that is applied to unclassified information that may be exempt from mandatory release to the public under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA).

Federal Personnel—Officers and employees of the Government of the United States, members of the uniformed services (including members of the Reserve Components), and individuals entitled to receive immediate or deferred retirement benefits under any retirement program of the United States (including survivor benefits).

First Party Requester—A subject or designated representative asking for access to his/her SOR. The identity of the subject requester must be verified. A notarized signature or a sworn declaration under penalty from the record subject is one method to determine identification.

Individual—Under the Privacy Act, a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence.

Member of the Public—An individual or party acting in their private life capacity which may include Federal employees or military personnel.

Minor—Under the established age an adult according to local state law. The legal age of majority may be different in overseas locations. PII—Personally Identifiable Information; see Personal Identifier and Personal Information.

Personal Identifier—A name, number, or symbol that is unique to an individual in which can be used to trace an individual's identity, usually the person's name or SSN.

PREPARING A SYSTEM OF RECORDS NOTICE (SORN)

A2.1. Publishing. The following elements comprise a SORN for publication in the Federal Register: (For examples see Privacy website Helpful Resources, http://www.privacy.af.mil/helpfulresources/index.asp).

A2.2. System Identifier. AF Privacy Office, SAF/A6XA assigns the notice number, for example, F033 AF PC A, where "F" indicates "Air Force," the next number represents the publication series number related to the subject matter, and the final letter group shows the system manager's command or Deputy Chief of Staff (DCS). The last character "A" indicates that this is the first notice for this series and system manager.

A2.3. System Name. Use a short, specific, plain-language title that identifies the system's general purpose (limited to 55 characters).

A2.4. System Location. Specify the address of the primary system and any decentralized elements, including automated data systems with a central computer facility and input or output terminals at separate locations. Use street address, 2-letter state abbreviations and 9-digit ZIP Codes. Spell out office names. Do not use office symbols.

A2.5. Categories of Individuals Covered by the System. Use nontechnical, specific categories of individuals about whom the AF keeps records. Do not use categories like "all AF personnel" unless they are actually true.

A2.6. Categories of Records in the System. Describe in clear, plain language, all categories of records in the system. List only documents actually kept in the system. Do not show source documents that are used to collect data and then destroyed. Do not list form numbers.

A2.7. Authority for Maintenance of the System. Cite the specific law or executive order that authorizes the program the record supports. Note: EO 9397 (SSN), as amended, authorizes, but does require the use of the SSN as a personal identifier. It has been amended by EO 13478. Include both executive orders as authority whenever the SSN is collected and/or used to retrieve records.

A2.8. Purpose. Describe briefly and specifically what the AF does with the information collected.

A2.9. Routine Uses of Records Maintained in the System Including Categories of Users and the Purpose of Such Uses. List each specific agency or activity outside DoD to whom the records may be released and the purpose for such release. The DoD 'Blanket Routine Uses' published in the AF Directory of System Notices apply to all system notices.

A2.10. Direction for Storing, Retrieving, Accessing, Retaining, and Disposing of Records in the System:

A2.10.1. Storage. State the medium in which the AF keeps the records; for example, in file folders, card files, microfiche, computer, or a combination of those methods. Storage does not refer to the storage container.

A2.10.2. Retrievability. State how the AF retrieves the records; for example, by name, SSN, or personal characteristics (such as fingerprints or voiceprints).

A2.10.3. Safeguards. List the kinds of officials who have immediate access to the system. List those responsible for safeguarding the records. Identify the system safeguards; for example, storage in safes, vaults, locked cabinets or rooms, use of guards, visitor controls, personnel screening, computer systems software, and so on. Describe safeguards fully without compromising system security.

A2.10.4. Retention and Disposal. State how long the activity must maintain the record IAW its approved Records Disposition. Indicate if or when the records may be transferred to a Federal Records Center and how long the record stays there. Specify when the Records Center transfers legal ownership of (accession) the record to the National Archives or when the Records center destroys the record. Indicate how the records may be destroyed. Consult with your Records Professional on finding an appropriate disposition in the AF Records Disposition Schedule in AFRIMS.

A2.11. System Manager and Address. List the position title and duty address of the system manager. For decentralized systems, show the locations and the position or duty title of each category of officials responsible for any segment of the system.

A2.12. Notification Procedure. List the title and duty address of the official authorized to tell requesters if their records are in the system. Specify the information a requester must submit; for example, full name, military status, SSN, date of birth, or proof of identity, and so on.

A2.13. Record Access Procedures. Explain how individuals may arrange to access their records. Include the titles or categories of officials who may assist; for example, the system manager.

A2.14. Contesting Records Procedures. SAF/A6XA provides this standard caption.

A2.15. Record Source Categories. Show categories of individuals or other information sources for the system.

A2.16. Exemptions Claimed for the System. When a system has no approved exemption, write "None" under this heading. Specifically list any approved exemption including the subsection in the Act.

DOD BLANKET ROUTINE USE

The DoD 'BLANKET ROUTINE USES' are at http://dpclo.defense.gov/Privacy/SORNsIndex/BlanketRoutineUses.aspx.

A3.1. DoD Blanket Routine Uses. Certain DoD 'blanket routine uses' have been established that are applicable to every record system maintained by the Department of the Air Force, unless specifically stated otherwise within the particular record system notice. These additional routine uses of the records are published only once in the Air Force's Preamble to its compilation of records systems in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundancy. Updates and current versions of the DoD Blanket Routine uses are maintained on the DPCLO website.

A3.2. Law Enforcement Routine Use. If a system of records maintained by a DoD Component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal, or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or by regulation, rule, or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the agency concerned, whether federal, state, local, or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation, or order issued pursuant thereto.

A3.3. Disclosure when Requesting Information Routine Use. A record from a system of records maintained by a Component may be disclosed as a routine use to a federal, state, or local agency maintaining civil, criminal, or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a Component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit.

A3.4. Disclosure of Requested Information Routine Use. A record from a system of records maintained by a Component may be disclosed to a federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

A3.5. Congressional Inquiries Routine Use. Disclosure from a system of records maintained by a Component may be made to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual.

A3.6. Private Relief Legislation Routine Use. Relevant information contained in systems of records of the Department of Defense published on or before August 22, 1975, will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in Office of Management and Budget Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

A3.7. Disclosures Required by International Agreements Routine Use. A record from a system of records maintained by a Component may be disclosed to foreign law enforcement, security, investigatory, or administrative authorities to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred in, international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of DOD military and civilian personnel.

A3.8. Disclosure to State and Local Taxing Authorities Routine Use. Any information normally contained in Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by a Component may be disclosed to state and local taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements under 5 U.S.C., sections 5516, 5517, and 5520 and only to those state and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member is or was subject to tax regardless of whether tax is or was withheld. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin No. 76-07.

A3.9. Disclosure to the Office of Personnel Management Routine Use. A record from a system of records subject to the Privacy Act and maintained by a Component may be disclosed to the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deduction, and any other information necessary for the OPM to carry out its legally authorized government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

A3.10. Disclosure to the Department of Justice for Litigation Routine Use. A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to any component of the Department of Justice for the purpose of representing the Department of Defense, or any officer, employee or member of the Department in pending or potential litigation to which the record is pertinent.

A3.11. Disclosure to Military Banking Facilities Overseas Routine Use. Information as to current military addresses and assignments may be provided to military banking facilities who provide banking services overseas and who are reimbursed by the Government for certain checking and loan losses. For personnel separated, discharged, or retired from the Armed Forces, information as to last known residential or home of record address may be provided to the military banking facility upon certification by a banking facility officer that the facility has a returned or dishonored check negotiated by the individual or the individual has defaulted on a loan and that if restitution is not made by the individual, the U.S. Government will be liable for the losses the facility may incur.

A3.12. Disclosure of Information to the General Services Administration (GSA) Routine Use. A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the General Services Administration (GSA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

A3.13. Disclosure of Information to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) Routine Use. A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

A3.14. Disclosure to the Merit Systems Protection Board Routine Use. A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the Merit Systems Protection Board, including the Office of the Special Counsel for the purpose of litigation, including administrative proceedings, appeals, special studies of the civil service and other merit systems, review of OPM or component rules and regulations, investigation of alleged or possible prohibited personnel practices; including administrative proceedings involving any individual subject of a DoD investigation, and such other functions, promulgated in 5 U.S.C. 1205 and 1206, or as may be authorized by law.

A3.15. Counterintelligence Purpose Routine Use. A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use outside the DoD or the U.S. Government for the purpose of counterintelligence activities authorized by U.S. Law or Executive Order or for the purpose of enforcing laws, which protect the national security of the United States.

RISK ASSESSMENT

A6.1. Risk Notification. Five factors are used when determining if an agency is required to notify those who may have been affected by a PII breach. Agencies should take the time to determine the risk of harm, embarrassment, inconvenience or unfairness surrounding the breach. The factors used in assessing the likely risk of harm are:

A6.1.1. Nature of Data Elements Breached. Consider context of the data involved and the potential harm, embarrassment, inconvenience or unfairness that might be generated by its exposure to unauthorized individuals.

A6.1.2. Likelihood the Information is Accessible and Useable. Upon discovery of a breach, agencies should assess the likelihood the personally identifiable information has been or will be used by unauthorized individuals. The greater the risk that the information may be used unlawfully should influence an agency's decision to provide notification to the individual(s).

A6.1.3. Likelihood the breach may lead to harm, embarrassment, inconvenience or unfairness to an individual.

A6.1.3.1. Broad Reach of Potential Harm, Embarrassment, Inconvenience or Unfairness. Consider the possible harm associated with the loss or compromise of the PII, i.e., loss of self- esteem, mental pain or emotional stress.

A6.1.3.2. Likelihood Harm, Embarrassment, Inconvenience or Unfairness Will Occur. Agencies must determine the type of data has been compromised and the manner the breach occurred.

A6.1.4. Ability of the Agencies to Mitigate the Risk of Harm, Embarrassment, Inconvenience or Unfairness. In addition to containing the breach, agencies must determine what countermeasures will be used to prevent further compromise of the system's PII.

EXAMPLE PRIVACY BREACH NOTIFICATION LETTER
OFFICIAL LETTERHEAD

Dear Mr. John Miller:
On 3 January 2013, an individual assigned to XXX unit, sent an e-mail with an attachment (alpha roster, recall roster, and information document) containing your Personal Information which may be protected under the Privacy Act of 1974 from their government e-mail to their personal e-mail account. i.e. Yahoo, Gmail, or Hotmail. The e-mail contained your name, social security number, residential address, date of birth, personal e-mail address, and home telephone numbers.
Based on the preliminary investigation, we have determined there was no malicious intent.
We recommend you visit the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) on its Web site at http://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/0275-place-fraud-alert. The FTC urges that you immediately place an initial fraud alert on your credit file. The fraud alert is for a period of 90 days, during which, creditors are required to contact you before a new credit card is issued or an existing card changed. The site also provides other valuable information that can be taken now or in the future if problems should develop. The Air Force does not endorse this site or provide fraud credit protection.
As the commander of xxxxxx, I take this loss very seriously and I am reviewing our current policies and practices to determine what must be changed to preclude a similar occurrence in the future. At a minimum, I will be providing additional training to personnel to ensure that they understand the importance of safeguarding individual's Personal Information at all times and must be treated in a manner that preserves and protects the confidentiality of the individual.
I deeply regret and apologize for any inconvenience and concern this may cause you.
Should you have any questions, please call _____.

Sincerely, Signature Block

PREPARING A DOD SSN JUSTIFICATION MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM FOR AIR FORCE PRIVACY OFFICE, SAF/A6XA

SUBJECT: Justification for the Use of the Social Security Number (SSN)
The memorandum should begin by naming the DITPR number of the IT system and/or form that is the subject of the justification. The description must be sufficiently detailed so that someone unfamiliar with the system can grasp the general understanding of its intent.
The justification for the use of the SSN must include a reference to the SSN Instruction Use Case that is being used to justify the use of the SSN. If the justification does not fall under either the operational necessity use case or the legacy system interface use case, then the justification shall also include the specific reference to the law that requires the use of the SSN and why it is applicable to the use being justified.
Reference is made to the system or form supporting documentation, including but not limited to, System of Records Notice (SORN), Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA), Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA) notice, or any other documentation that may be appropriate. If the substance of the documentation is not attached, reference is made to how the reader may gain access to this documentation.
Justification for the use of the SSN does not constitute blanket permission to use the SSN. Specific reference shall be made to indicate actions being taken to reduce the vulnerability of SSNs, which may include indicating where SSNs are being removed from transactions, where SSNs are no longer displayed, or any other protections that have been included. It should be obvious to the reader that a thorough effort has been made to evaluate the risk associated with the system or form and that every reasonable step has been or is being taken to reduce the use of the SSN and protect it where the use is still required.
Justification for the use of the SSN does not constitute blanket permission to use the SSN. Specific reference shall be made to indicate actions being taken to reduce the vulnerability of SSNs, which may include indicating where SSNs are being removed from transactions, where SSNs are no longer displayed, or any other protections that have been included. It should be obvious to the reader that a thorough effort has been made to evaluate the risk associated with the system or form and that every reasonable step has been or is being taken to reduce the use of the SSN and protect it where the use is still required.
If the justification for the use of the SSN falls under the “legacy use” authorization and is not specifically required by the law, reference shall be made to the Plan of Actions and Milestones for the elimination of the use of the SSN.

NOTIONAL COMPLAINT VIGNETTES

Disclaimer: Vignettes are provided for the instructional purpose of teaching how to identify Civil Liberties related issues only. They do not reflect official policies or positions of the Department of Defense.

1. Religion.

a. Scenario: During the work day, a military unit attended a religious themed movie at the base theater. Members were given the choice of watching the movie or cleaning the barracks while the unit watched the movie. A week later a member of the unit submitted a complaint. In his complaint, he said he chose to watch the movie because he viewed cleaning the barracks as punishment, but now he feels like his religious freedom was violated. He does not think a punishment, like cleaning the barracks, should be an alternative to watching a religious themed movie.

b. Civil Liberties Issue: First Amendment; Freedom of Religion. A service member should not be punished for participating or not participating in a religious activity. If the service member's belief that he faced a punishment for not attending the movie is accurate, his unit leadership should be counseled about the necessity of allowing for unit member religious freedom without the threat of punishment.

2. Social Media Use & Operational Security.

a. Scenario: A deployed service member posted a photograph on Facebook. The caption indicated that his team had just returned from a patrol, and the date/time stamp on the photo showed exactly when it was taken. The service member's chain of command told him to take down the photograph, to protect operational security. However, the service member stated that he was using his personal Facebook account, during his personal time (not while on duty), and not claiming to represent or speak for the military.

b. Civil Liberties Issue: Freedom of Speech/Expression. While individuals have a right to express themselves through online social media outlets, such expression must not compromise operational security. DTM 09-026, "Responsible and Effective Use of Internet-based Capabilities," Attachment 2, section 5, states that "when accessing Internet-based capabilities using Federal Government resources in an authorized personal or unofficial capacity, individuals shall employ sound operations security (OPSEC) measures." Other regulations, like the "Joint Ethics Regulation and the Standards of Ethical Conduct for Employees of the Executive Branch," prohibit the release of non-public information, require appropriate disclaimers of opinions being expressed, and restrict the use of government computers to access and to manage personal sites during official duty time.

3. Service Members' Political Involvement.

a. Scenario: An active-duty service member placed a bumper sticker on his privately owned vehicle. The chain of command told the service member to remove the sticker, but the service member refused, citing his Constitutional right to freedom of speech and freedom of expression.

b. Civil Liberties Issue: Freedom of Speech/Expression/Assembly (to the extent that showcasing one's political affiliation constitutes assembly). In keeping with the traditional concept that service members on active duty should not engage in partisan political activity, and that service members not on active duty should avoid inferences that their political activities imply or appear to imply official sponsorship, approval, or endorsement, the military may regulate service members' participation in political activities. According to DoDD1344.10, Sec 4.1.1.8. "A member of the Armed Forces on active duty may: display a political bumper sticker on the member's private vehicle." In this case, the Directive regulating such participation allows the service member to display the bumper sticker. Unit leadership should be counseled about DoD policies regulating service members' participation in political activities.

4. Search and Seizure.

a. Scenario: A DoD civilian, employed at a CONUS Air Force base, was randomly selected to have his vehicle searched at the gate. The gate guard inspected the engine compartment, exterior and undercarriage of the vehicle, and the interior of the vehicle, including the glove box and consoles. The employee submitted a complaint to the base Civil Liberties Officer, alleging that a search of the glove box and consoles was excessive and unreasonable.

b. Civil Liberties Issue: Right to be Secure against Unreasonable Searches and Seizures. Installation commanders issue regulations for the protection and security of property or places under their command. The search followed established procedures for vehicle searches, per direction provided in Air Force Instruction 31-204 "Air Force Motor Vehicle Traffic Supervision." In evaluating this type of case, consider whether a command authorizes the search of glove boxes and consoles. For example, the AFI instructs officials conducting searches of vehicles entering a military installation to "look under all seats, under/behind dash, glove box, consoles, visors, ashtrays and any packages and briefcases."

5. Don't Ask, Don't Tell – With Speech/Religion Implications.

a. Scenario: A service member speaks with a friend, informally on base, about the repeal of Don't Ask, Don't Tell. The service member, consistent with her religion, expressed opposition to homosexuality. The service member's senior overheard comments and told her to stop expressing these views on base. The service member filed a Civil Liberties complaint, alleging that her freedom of speech/religion was violated when she was told to stop expressing her religious views on base.

b. Civil Liberties Issue: Freedom of Speech/Religion. Service members may express moral or religious beliefs, so long as service members do NOT make statements detrimental to good order and discipline, and so long as service members obey lawful orders. Whether or not the service member's Civil Liberties were, in fact, violated is dependent upon whether or not her comments fall within the constraints articulated in the direction above.

6. Carrying Privately Owned Weapons on Military Installations.

a. Scenario: Service member living in family housing aboard a Marine Corps base is required to report to the Provost Marshall that she possesses a firearm and stores it at her home. The service member filed a complaint with the Civil Liberties POC arguing that the Provost Marshall should not be keeping records on how she exercises her right to keep and bear arms.

b. Civil Liberties Issue: Right to Keep and Bear Arms. In reviewing the service member's complaint, consider whether the PM's requirement to report the firearm is authorized by a base order or other regulation.

7. Civilian Employment Complaint.

a. Scenario: A DoD civilian supervisor typically allows overtime for all employees who volunteer. However, a civilian employee in that office submitted a complaint, alleging that he has not been allowed to work overtime because the supervisor saw him at an anti-war protest on a Saturday last year. His complaint letter alleged that because his supervisor will not allow him to work overtime, his Civil Liberties are being violated.

b. Civil Liberties Issue: Right to Due Process. His complaint about not being allowed to work overtime, when other workers are encouraged to work overtime, could be a recognized employee grievance. Direct him to consider the use of his agency's existing employee grievance process.

8. Member of Public, Pentagon Protests, and Suspicious Activity Reporting.
a. Scenario: A member of the public attended a protest at the Pentagon. He followed all rules and procedures governing the protest, including not making threatening statements or displaying threatening behavior, and complied with instructions from Pentagon Police Officers. The individual submitted a complaint alleging that a civilian employee, employed at the Pentagon, asked each of the protestors to identify themselves and subsequently stated that he was going to identify them in a suspicious activity report, due to their participation in the protest.
b. Civil Liberties Issue: Freedom of Speech, Peaceable Assembly. Consider whether the Privacy Act of 1974 is implicated by the Pentagon employee's actions. According to the Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. § 552a(e)(7)), "no information shall be maintained on how an individual exercises rights protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, including the freedoms of speech, assembly, press and religion, except as follows:
i. When specifically authorized by statute.
ii. When expressly authorized by the individual, group of individuals, or association on whom the record is maintained.
iii. When the record is pertinent to and within the scope of an authorized law enforcement activity.

Attachment 11

CIVIL LIBERTIES COMPLAINT REPORT INSTRUCTIONS

Introduction

Section 803 of Public Law 110-53 requires the Department to report its Civil Liberties activities to Congress. In order to comply with that requirement, each DoD Component must submit a semi-annual report to the Defense Privacy and Civil Liberties Office (DPCLO). DPCLO will consolidate Component data and submit the Department's reports to Congress.

Component reports must include the following:

(1) The number and nature of Civil Liberties complaints received; and

(2) A summary of the disposition of such complaints.

Semi-Annual reports are due by the 10th day of the month following the closing of each fiscal year quarter to the AF Civil Liberties POC: usaf.pentagon.saf-cio-a6.mbx.af-privacy@mail.mil

Component Points of Contact (POCs) Reporting Responsibilities

POCs are responsible for establishing procedures to report Civil Liberties complaints for their entire Component.

To ensure the Department is accurately accounting for and addressing Civil Liberties complaints, Component reporting procedures should capture Civil Liberties complaints that may be received by offices such as the Inspector General (IG), Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO), and Labor Management Employee Relations (LMER). Component reporting procedures should also ensure that there is no duplicate reporting within the Component.

Report Direction

Definitions

Civil Liberties Complaint:

For purposes of reporting, a complaint is an allegation of one or more Civil Liberties violations.

Received:

The Component has received the complaint and is evaluating it for a Civil Liberties implication.

Resolved:

The complaint has been fully adjudicated or resolved.

Provide a summary of complaints on a separate sheet of paper. Include the following information for each complaint:

1. Description of complaint. Please identify the constitutional amendment, law, regulation, or other authority alleged to be violated in the complaint, if possible.

Do not include any personally identifiable information (PII) about the complainant or any other persons involved in complaint (examples of PII include names, addresses, phone numbers, and Social Security Numbers).

2. Findings; and

3. Disposition.

Examples of Potential Complaints Implicating Civil Liberties (not an exhaustive list):

A military service member claims he was punished by his commanding officer for refusing to attend a religious activity; or by not being allowed to attend a religious function in accordance with his religious beliefs.

A civilian employee made disparaging comments about the Department via his personal social networking page and was instructed by his supervisor to remove the posts, or be reprimanded.
